At the conclusion of the conference Hebburn said he had prepared a bill on the subject of railroad rates which embodied the recommendations of the President so far as they went. It also provided for the necessary machinery to carry the provisions of the proposed law into effect.

Hepburn would not discuss the details of the bill, but indicated it contained a provision for a court to consider such cases as might arise under the supposed law. He was asked the Washington, Jan. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President is nearer victory in his contention for the regulation of railroad-freight rates now than he ever has been before, for, as a result of conferences that have been held, the Senate Committee in Interstate Commerce has decided to have a meeting Monday morning to commence active work on the preparation of a bill that may be put through the Senate at this senator Newlands add: is Senator Newlands of Nevada, mem-ber of the Senate Committee on Inter-state Commerce, and an advocate of Federal regulation and control of rail-roads. Speaking on this line today, Senator Newlands said:

"At present the railroads are be-tween the upper mill stone of the tax-ing power and the nether mill stone of the rate-reduction power. Be-tween the two they can be crushed. This vast property, aggregating over ten billion dollars in value is abso-lutely subject to the varying condi-tions of popular judgment. Being so absolutely under the control of polibill framed in the House, and it is believed that Representative Hepburn, of Iowa, chairman of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, has solved the riddle of how the bill shall be framed. Hepburn was at the White House today with Secretary of War Taft and they were in conference with the President over the terms of the bill to be offered. tions of popular judgment. Being so absolutely under the control of politics, the railroads therefore take a hand in politics, and as they do everything systematically, these present conditions have invited the organization of political machines as part of every railroad system in the country. Politics is business with the railroads, and as they naturally pursue the lines of least resistance, these often involve an alliance with, or control of, the worst political elements in every community. In the matter of taxes, they are subject to the varying judgment of numerous assessors and boards of equalisation; in the matter of rates, to the action of legislative bodies and commissions. It is not in nature to expect them to keep out of politics under such conditions, and it is well known their interest in politica design the subject to the varying judgment to the action of legislative bodies and commissions. It is not in nature to expect them to keep out of politics under such conditions, and it is well known their interest in politica design to tend toward good government. If they exercise no political power, they are liable to being held up by black.

ciation, and later with the State itself, under an appropriation made for this cooperative work. This work has included the collection of information as to pumping tests, best methods of preparing land for irrigation and applying water to crops; experiments to ascertain the absolute water requirements of plants, and studies of questions connected with canal management. A preliminary report of this cooperative work has just been issued.

Many pumping plants have been tested to determine their efficiency and the cost of raising water. This circular gives the reports of a number of these tests, the final result in each case being given in the form of the cost of fuel for raising water thirty feet to cover one acre of ground to a depth of eighteen inches. Under various plants experimented upon, this cost varies from 90 cents to 33.68. Tests showed that with a lift of forty feet, efficiency increased as the pump was placed nearer the water supply. Reports from fifteen pumping plants show an average depth of 1.28 feet of water applied at an average cost of 36 per acre. Gross crop returns from twenty-four orchards irrigated with water supplied from pumping plants averaged $1.36 per acre.

Measurements of losses of water by evaporation were carried on at Tulare. Pomona and Calexico. The total for twelve months at Tulare was 74.88 evaporation were carried on at Tuiare, Pomona and Calexico. The total for twelve months at Tuiare was 7.68 inches, at Pomona 66.62 inches, and at Calexico 108.23 inches. At each place the greatest evaporation occurred during June, July and August. Water with a temperature of 59 deg. lost almost ten times as much as water maintained at a temperature of 55 deg. Much less water is lost by evaporation when it is applied in deep furrows, and the greatest loss came from applying water to the surface.

Hepburn, "who are especially interested in the legislation, will participate in the conterence."

"No," he continued, "I will not be necessarily a party to the conference, but my work will be here."

"Do you think rate legislation will be enacted at the present session?"

"I do, most certainly," replied Hepburn. "I believe the House will pass the measure before the end of this month, and there is no reason why it should not be crystallized into law before the session ends."

CONGRESS MUST ACT.

CONGRESS MUST ACT.

The charge of being under the control of railroad influence has been so often made against the Senate and House as a whole and against individual members from time to time, that the Senators and members have become exasperated, as they realize that the inaction of Congress seems to strengthen this opinion in the public mind. This phase of the situation is discussed frequently, and as it bears on their political future, comes nearer home to them than anything else in this connection. The President is quoted as saying that the mind of the people is made up on this question, and if a Republican Congress does not give now owned by the United States, is being managed, and especially about, the monopolistic contract that it holds with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, to the exclusion of all other steamship companies. Mr. Mann is preparing an amendment to his bill, that will do away entirely with the board of directors of the Panama Railroad and place the institution under the control of one man, who shall be directly responsible to the President for its operation.

W ASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congress is rapidly getting into the mood to take hold of Panama Canal and Panama Railroad matters and make a clean sweep of the present regime and start a new deal all around that will not be so cumbersome and may be smore effective. It is regarded as all commendation that the President's recommendation that the President's recommendation that the Isthmian Canal Commission be reduced in number will be carried out. In fact, there is now pending before the House, a bill introduced some time agro by Representative Mann of Illinois, reducing the commission to three members. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—SENATE.
—In the Senate today an unavailing effort was made by Mr. Beveridge to secure unanimous consent to fix a day for taking a vote on the Statehood Bill. Mr. Bate spoke for the opponents of the bill, saying there were still a number of speeches to be made. There was some discussion of a bill permitting American women who have married foreigners to regain citizenshir in the United States, but it did not reach a vote. Among other bills passed was one protecting the great seal of the United States against counterfeiting.

Mr. Dubols introduced an amendment to the Joint Statehood Bill prohibiting the practice or encouragement of ing the practice or encouragement of polygamy in the proposed States of Oklahoma and Arizona. The provi-sions are in the language of the Idaho Okiahoma and Arizona. The provisions are in the language of the Idahotest oath.

The Philippine Railroad Bill was sent to conference with Messra. Lodge, Hale and Culberson as conferes.

During consideration of the bill regulating the restoration to citizenship of American women, who have married foreigners, Mr. Nelson said the bill was intended to apply to women of this country who married abroad and who were divorced or whose husbands may have died.

Mr. Depew said that it was not the intention of the bill to confine it to widows and divorcees, but to all women who have foreign husbands. The woman suffragisis and the ladles of the American League, he said, took exception to the fact that women lost their citizenship by marrying a foreigner, while men did not.

Mr. Lodge suggested an amendment confining the operation of the bill to widows and lawfully divorced women. Mr. Tillman protested against the amendment as discriminating against grass widows.

Mr. Depew defended international marriages as natural and due to the "good old-fashioned American reason of propinquity." "My observation is," he added, "that the title grenerally chases the girl, and not the girl the title."

The amendment was accepted.

Mr. Heyburn suggested, and Mr. McCumber offered, an amendment requiring women taking advantage of the provisions of the proposed law to renounce all titles of nobility which they may have acquired and it was agreed to.

At the suggestion of Mr. Spooner the bill went over for a day.

A bill making it a felony to counterfeit the great seal of the United States was then passed.

The following bills were also passed:

Authorising the sale of obsolete arms to Grand Army posts; providing that in the retirement of petty officers and enlisted men of the naw, the entire service of the men shall be taken into account, removing the time limitation.

tative to the isthmus, that the offices of Minister and Governor of the canal sone be merged into the office of Governor-Minister. This news comes in a cablegram from the Minister of Foreign Affairs to the Panama Minister at Washington Mr. Obaldia, who called at the State Department today to inform the officials of the fact. Mr. Obaldia also discussed with the officials the arrangements for the boundary lines between Costa Rica and Panama.

Baron Hayasht has not received of-ficial notification of the circular. Ha visited Lord Lansdowne this afterficial notification of the circular. He visited Lord Lansdowne this aftermoon.

Lord Lansdowne later said: "The Japanese have not replied to the innumerable allegations of breaches of neutrality and of international law charged by Russia since beginning of the war, but the Japanese government will reply to this formal charge."

Baron Hayashi thinks it is in line with other charges and similar to the "yellow peril" scare. He said Great Britain, the United States and Germany have as great inferests in China as Russia had, and all knew from their own agents whether it was necessary to interfere.

Incidentally, Baron Hayashi said he was well pleased to learn of the intention of the American government to establish a district court for the consular service in China and Korea, as it would facilitate Japanese appeals from the consular courts.

At the German Embassy, a discussion of the Russian circular was poductive of the opinion that China had too severe a lesson in the Boxer movement to permit of another outbreak against Europeans. It was thought improbable at the embassy that Russia really intended to withdraw from adherence to the agreement limiting the zone of hostilities in the Far Tast.

At the Chinese Legation, it was asserted that China had maintained a neutrality such as few European powers could have kept, in the face of the most trying circumstances.

The meeting was held at the instance of Gov. Douglas, who is desirous of bringing about a settlement of the trouble.

The textile unions of Fail River last night voted to give a committee from the unions full power to act in the matter of ending or continuing the strike, and the manufacturers' association also delegated a committee to act for them in fixing terms for a settlement. These committees met in the Governors office today.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 14.—Miners of bituminous and anthracite coal are arriving for their national convention, which will begin Monday. The national tellers will be able to report Monday the reflection of President Mitcheil, Vice-President Eewis and Secretary Obseon.

It is anticipated that precautionary preparations for another great struggle between the anthracite coal operators and the United Mine Workers will be laid. The convenuen will devote a part of its time to planning for a war footing for the organizations on that it will be able to meet any demands of the anthracite operators April 1, 1906. The miners want recognition of the union, a joint contract, such as exists in the bituminous districts, covering at least a year, and the adoption of the check system by the anthracite companies, sy which they, as the bituminous operators now do, collect the union dues at the mine.

The plans to put the organization on a war footing provide for a full $1,000,000 treasury fund.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—At the dinner of the Contractors Protective Association tonight, Charles Leideitz, president of the Building Trades Employers Association, said in response to the toast "Arbitration."

"Many people thought a few years ago that the labor troubles in this city had been ended. After the unions were beaten in 1903 all thought they would cause no more trouble for many years, at least, but they broke out again in 1904 and it was only a few weeks ago they were put in check. We will have pence possibly for a year or for a year and a half, but I am confident that they are bound to break out again, Our fight will not be on the lines of union principles. It will be for the open shop, the non-union shop.

"The good labor union is the one that does not exist. Arbitration reminds me of the practice of taking candy with medicine in order to make the dose pleasant. So it is with arbitration, according to the theory of union workmen. They seek arbitration as candy in order to administer to us a dose which at all times is a severe one."

EMIL FORMUS IS ARRESTED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Wanted in Los Angeles for Alleged Theft of Diamond Ring Belonging to Mrs. S. D. Parker—Andrew Schmidt of Oakland Tried to Throw Police Off Fugitive's Track.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although shielded by his friend, Andrew Schmidt, of No. 5700 Fremont avenue, Oakland, Emil Formus was taken into custody early this morning by Detective Kyle on the charge of grand larceny, alleged to have been committed in Los Angeles. Chief of Police Hummel of Los Angeles telegraphed last night that he had information that Formus, who is accused of stealing diamonds in that city, was in Oakland, and was staying at the house of Schmidt. Schmidt, when asked about the matter, refused the detective admission to his house. Capt. of Police Peterson, refused the detective admission to his house. Capt. of Police Peterson, caused Schmidt to be brought to the city prison. Schmidt then volunteered to find the supposed thief, but instead, he wandered about the city to find his friend to give him warning. As Formus got off a train at Golden Gate station and was approached by Schmidt, he was placed under arrest by Detective Kyle, who had grown suspicious of Schmidt's actions. The prisoner will be taken to Los Angeles Monday.

Emil Formus is in trouble on account of a diamond ring. Detective Murphy is en route to Oakland to bring him back to this city. Formus was employed by S. D. Parker of No. 1507 South Grand avenue. Mrs. Parker alleges that he was treated as a member of the family, but that he failed to keep faith, and appropriated a diamond ring valued at $200, belonging to Mrs. Parker. The police were notified several days ago, and late yesterday afternoon, after a long search, recovered the ring from a local pawnbroker, where it had been placed by Formus.

TIMES' BANNER ADVERTISING WEEK.

The Times printed a total of 832 columns of advertising (not including 76 columns of official city advertising) for the week ending yesterday, Jauxary 14th, and more than the aggregate of any three other Los Angeles newspapers combined. This was a gain of 194 columns over the same period of the preceding year. The total gain of all the other Los Angeles papers for the week was only 116 columns. The gain of The Times was five times greater than that of its nearest morning competitor, and the total volume was almost three times larger.

The circulation of The Times is steadily increasing. For the last three Sundays, barring the Midwinter Number, 57,500 copies have been printed, and the edition has been exhausted each week. Today, 58,000 copies will be printed, the largest regular Sunday issue in the history of The Times.

The official report showing the cancellation of the British concession for a railroad from Swatow to Chaochou and its reissuance to Japanese is cited as another evidence of national opposition to European and American development. A curious feature is that the Chinese capital interests do not wish for entire control of the railroads, desiring sufficient foreign participation to insure foreign governments preventing the extortion of Chinese officials.

The French authorities are seeking to overcome the native opposition, so as to permit a realization of the French branch of the extensive projects.

French Statesman Secures Majority of Ten on Motion to Support Policy of the Government—Saucepan Flourished in Face of Premier Dur-

PARIS, Jan. 15, 2:15 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Premier Combes's Cabinet weathered the storm in the Chr. Tober of Deputies, lasting until after 1 o'clock this morning, and secured a majority of ten on a motion supporting the declarations of the ministers and approving the policy of the government. The result was reached after a debate marked by frequent violent altercations, threatening a free fight, and during the course of which an opposition Deputy flourished a saucepan in the face of the Premier. position Deputy flourished a saucepan in the face of the Premier. The majority, although not large, is considered sufficient to insure the retention of the ministry.

It was generally expected that the session would culminate in the overthrow of the ministry of Premier Combes, and the floors and gallery were packed by persons who desired to witness the final struggle. The contest against the ministry had been slowly gaining ground. The principal elements of opposition were:

First, those combatting the policy of Premier Combes for separation of church and state; second, those denouncing the government's collection of secret reports regarding the lives of anny officers; and, third, those complaining of the tardiness of the ministry in passing a law creating an income tax.

Those various elements sapped the come tax.

Those various elements sapped the strength of the majority until Premier Combes found himself confronted by a rebellion in his own ranks. His speech in closing the three days' debate on the policy of the government was a vehement defense of his ministry and a denunciation of his detractors.

The Premier referred to the calumnies which had not spared his white hair. He wished to complete the work against the religious associations and if the Ministry were retained he said it would proceed to consider the income tax and workingmen's pensions, and the separation of church and state, but the latter would be modified so as to avoid any spirit of intolerance.

In closing, Premier Combes said:

MORE WITNESSES TESTIFY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

WASHINGTON. Jan. 14.—Eleven witnesses testified today before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections in the investigation of protests against the seating of Senator Reed Smoot. All except two told of political conditions in Utah and of the Mormon Endowment House ceremony, several witnesses said the ceremony included no obligations that were in conflict with the duties of a citizen to his State or nation. Chairman Burrows asked two of the witnesses to give the nature of the ceremonies, but both refused on the ground that they had given oaths not to divulge what had taken place within the temple. They both claimed not to be Mormons now, one having been expelled, and the other having voluntarily withdrawn from the church.

Mrs. Duke said that she had been largely interested in tobacco-raising interests near Redfield, Tex.; that ishe was formerly in business in Chicago, and that she was a land and immigra-tion agent of the Southern Pacific tion agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

Mrs. Duke said that she was born near Buffalo, thirty-seven years ago. Her mother, she said, was Helen E. Chapman, a daughter of the professor of ianguages in the University of New London. Her grandfather was Thomas 8. Webb, the father of Free Masonry in this country, she declared. She also told of her marriage in 1885 to George W. Hopkinson, which marriage, she said, was annuled, and of her marriage in 1897 to Edward F. Powell, and her divorce from him in 1902. Mrs. Duke told of her marriage by Rev. W. W. Coe in New York. DENVER, Jan. 14.-[Exclusive Dis-DENVER, Jan. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The live stock men have profited by the row raised in Denver. Theirs is the best advertised organization of its kind in the country. The smoke of battle lifted today, and the last meetings were held. Former Senator Harris of Kansas was made secretary and general manager of the old National Live Stock Association, but will have little to do with its actual work. Former Secretary Kenhedy will National Live Stock Association, but will have little to do with its actual work. Former Secretary Kenhedy will take charge of the Denver office and run the business, while Harris is in Chicago, where he has large interests. The American Stock Association may try by law to secure the money paid into the fund of the National. There have been thousands of dollars collected within the past few days from delegates, who came here and had to pay up before they could vote. This and some of the books, the Texas and California cattlemen say, they have a share in and mean to have.

The row between President Hagenbarth and S. H. Cowan was settled amicably, but there are still traces of bitterness between their friends.

The line-up of the organizations now almost separates the cattlemen and sheepmen. The wool growers remained with the old organization, while the range cattle growers went with the American Association.

Californians were disappointed at not securing the next meeting, and the representatives of the Governor of that State feel slighted.

S T. PETERSBURG, Jan. 14—(By Atlantic Cable.) Emperor Nicholas has addressed the following rescript to the army and the navy:

"Port Arthur has passed into the hands of the enemy. During eleven months, the fight had been going on in its defense. More than seven menths, its noble defenders had been cut off from the rest of the world. Without any positive assurance of relief, they continued to fight and did everything in their power to check the progress of the enemy, sparing neither life nor heart's blood to uphold the honor of the Russian people.

"Russia, with pride and admiration, followed each move in the contest. The whole world was astounded at their gallantry, but daily their ranks were thinned, their powers of resistance diminished, and, under repeated attacks by the enemy, they were obliged to give way. IBY THE ASSOCIA

Far from home, you have laid your bodies upon alien sell—a sterificate the dictates of your own honor and the demands of your Emperor.

"Peace and honor be your portion, always will you be so heid in our hearts and memory.

"Honor to the living. May God restore you to health and strength and give you patience to face this disaster, with which you are confronted.

"My gallant troops and saliers: De not let this sorrow dismay you. Our enemy is strong and daring. This fight against them occurs followings from our home; but Russia is powerful. In the thousand years of its existence, there have been still heavier trials, acres and more threatening dangers. But Russia ever arose from trial with resewed force and strength. Do not let your souls be troubled by lack of success and heavy losses. Russian strength grows with diversity.

tonneaus, tires, lamps, horns, spark plugs and the hundred and one accessories of the automobile brought the exhibit up to the value of $1,000,000. No fewer than 18,000 persons had passed through the gates up to midnight.

The show itself was essentially American. With the exception of the cars of three firms, every exhibit was home-made. Importers of machines are holding a separate show in Herald Square Exhibition Hall. The foreign machines were not missed, however, and American manufacturers in the future need not take dust from any imported machine.

In 1903 the American exhibit was not to be compared with foreign makes, and a year ago it was admitted that Europe led as far as motor cars were concerned. But the lesson was not lost on American manufacturers, and as a result it may be said candidly that America holds her own in 1905.

Everybody who is anybody in the motor world was there. Among the most prominent who were present tonight were: William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., John Jacob Astor, W. Gould Brokaw, Alfred G. Vanderbilt and E. R. Thomas and his pretty wife.

BLOCK LIGHT INCREASES LIGHT-CUTS GAS BILLS IN

FTER a careful investigation of the merits of block light The Broadway Department Store has completed arrange ments with the Block Light Co., whereby the big stor (that is still growing) becomes Los Angeles headquarters for this famous light. The block light is the one perfect incar descent gas light, producing with a single mantle from city gas natural gas or gasoline gas a light of 300 candle power. Though superior in brilliancy to any four of the best other burners cor structed, block lights consume less than two-thirds as mucl gas as any other one burner, and only one-sixth as much gas a s necessary to produce the same amount of light with other burners for block lights.

BURN EIGHT PARTS OF AIR TO ONE PART OF GAS

One Block Light Excels in brilliancy ten incandescent electric light bulbs; each costing le an hour. One block light costs less than to an hour for gas consumption.

One Block Light Burns four and a half feet of gas an hour, giving more light than four other

One Block Light Will brillia minate a ro the saving of gas through the use of is almost unbelievable.

BLOCK LIGHT IS NOT AN EXPENSE BUT AN ABSOLUTE ECONOM

It Increases Light and Decreases Gas Bills

THE VITAL PRINCIPLE OF BLOCK LIGHT lies in the comingling of gas and air, producing perfect combustion. It's construction is simple. The is a check which regulates the flow of gas; then there is an air chamber of accurately gauged capacity. The gas passes through a patented gauge broken into particles which mix with the air; the brilliancy of the light depends upon the perfection of this mixture. An ingeniously contrived

Block Mantles Are Much Stronger Than Ordinary Mantles

They help materially to produce the intensely white and easily diffused light for which block lights are famous.

Genuine Block Lights are never sold for less than $1.25. When offered a light purporting to be a block light at less money, examine the burner for the name "Block Light," and look on the mantle for the word "Block XX Mantle." If these do not appear you're being defrauded.

Be sure the name "Block" is on burner and mantle. None other genuine. We sell every kind of block light made under positive guarantee. Money refunded in case absolute satisfaction is not given. Come Monday and see these bright lights operation.—The Broadway Department Store, Block Light Section, Basement.

people arriving daily knew of the beauty of location that Glendale boasts, we should be satisfied. They do not, how ever, know that the atmosphere is the same there all the year round, and is as delightful as the Indian Summer is in the Eastern States. Glendale is a place where one is in the country, but has the advantages of the city. The new electric car service is without a rival, and lands its passengers in the heart of Los Angeles after a short 20-minute ride through delightful surroundings.

THE GLENDALE BOULEVARD TRACT of which we wish to speak has every advantage: fine, domestic water piped from the mountains, electricity for lighting and power. Orange, apricot, lemon and peach orchards surround it; and it has free telephone service to Los Angeles. This superb tract is now being offered in lots at prices ranging from $175 to $500, and acreage in any quantity from $400 to $750 per acre. GLENDALE BOULEVARD TRACT lies on each side of Brand Bou-curb and sidewalks, one of the grandest avenues for handsome homes in the country.

Added to all this, remember Glendale strawberries have almost a national reputation and one acre of these will pay for the land. Some of the land is already in orchards, we can accommodate all. Then as to terms; only one-third cash is necessary, the balance can be paid in one and two years at 6 per cent. Interest, and we give a liberal discount to those parties who will build substantial improvements.

So confident are we that you will be pleased with what you find at Glendale, that if you will call at our office, we shall be pleased to furnish free transportation. All come and bring your friends. The ride is glorious and won't cost you a cent.

exico in relation to Sena-nd his attitude on the uestion is fairly reflected Answering the postman's ring, you receive a nice, thick letter, typewritten, to be sure, but promising.

Here is just the opportunity you have been longing for. You need a plane sorely; you can play some and the family all love music. This is a chance to get a beautiful new plane by merely fitting together a certain number of letters into the greatest possible number of words—to be sure, a slight effort, but no cost. The people must know within the next two (?) weeks how many words can be formed from these letters. (They do not say why or what they may gain by the knowledge, but that doesn't marter, so long as you get the plane.)

Then comes two weeks of sleepless nights, cold coffee and burned potatoes. Your mind is bent on getting that plane, and all other affairs must, for the time being, take their chances. At last you send in your list. It certainly contains every word possible to frame from those letters. In just two days you receive the fatal answer. This letter fairly mourns in sympathy with you on account of the narrow margin by which your loss must be decided. In fact, you can detect a tear-choked voice in which this kind giver of planes would gently break the news that Miss "Marguerite Chrysanthemum Goldenrod," who lives out of the city, has formed just two and one-half words more than even the wonderful list that you in your masterly effort was able to compile. Hence, of course, the plane must so to her. "But cheer up," says the philanthropist, "we cannot witness your almost superhuman efforts in this matter without being touched" (to the amount of $100.) So out of this kindness of his heart he sends you a "due bill" for $100 which you may apply on any plane at a certain price which he will kindly name (saving you the trouble, you know.) He don't owe you this amount, he only gives it out of sympathy. You must, however, take advantage of his generosity within a certain number of days from date of "due bill."

If you look carefully about you, you will recognize another page from the "Gream book," and

NINE NATIONS

Now Use Liquozone. Won't You Try It-Free?

Millions of people, of nine different nations are constant users of Liquozone. Some are using it to get well: some to keep well. Some to cure germ diseases; some as a tonic. No medicine was ever so widely employed. These users are everywhere; your neighbors and friends are among them. And half the people you meet—wherever you are—know someone whom Liquisone has cured.

Dont' blindly take medicine for what medicine cannot do. Drugs never kill germs is a poison and it cannot do. Drugs never kill germs is a poison and it cannot do. Drugs never kill germs is a poison and it cannot do. Drugs never kill germs is a poison and it cannot have now to kill the germs in the body without killing the tissue, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in my germ disease.

These are the known germ diseases.

United in One Respect.

There may be differences of opinion regarding some subjects in sections of the country remote from each other, but there is none respecting the best remedy for piles, as witness the letters below:

"I have been feeling so good I could hardly believe it, after suffering with piles for a year, to find that I am once more feeling like myself. I wish you could have seen me before I started using Pyramid Pile Cure and look at me now, and you would say I am not the same man. I have gained 20 pounds, and all on account of Pyramid Pile Cure." Walter Sharkley, 56 Park street, Springfield, Mass.

"I bought a fifty cent box of Pyramid Pile Cure and used as directed with the most unexpected results, a complete cure. I have been troubled with piles for thirty years and was in much distress and passed much blood, but at present am free from any kind of piles." F. McKay, Weaverville, Cal.

"Pyramid Pile Cure has been worth thousands of dollars to me; it cured me after using numbers of other remedies and taking medicines from doctors. It also cured my son, although he could hardly walk, eat or sleep; he is now all right." B. Stringfellow, postmaster, Elko, S. C.

One thousand dollars is offered by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., to anyone who will show the above testimonials to be not genuine. Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package and every sufferer should buy a package and try it tonight, being careful to accept no substitutes, and bearing in mind the fact that there is nothing else "just as good."

were found in the stern. There was ittle in the way of fishing tackle to show that fishing had been the occupation of the owner. The whole outfit was in disorder and looked as if it had been deserted hurriedly.

The theory is held by some beach dwellers that there were two fishermen in the boat and that they had a fight in which one was killed, and that after throwing the boad overboard the other man ran ashore and made his escape. But no blood stains could be found and there was nothing to show that a struggle had taken place in the boat. Fishermen have been smuggling Chinamen into this country from Mexico for a long time. They get $75 for every one they can land safely and it is probable that the owner of this craft was a smuggler. The whole outfit as it rests on the sands is not worth a $10 note.

Membership Closed.

The Cosmos Club, though barely one year old, closed its membership at last Wednesday's meeting, having reached its prescribed limit of one hundred. The club reviewed the early history and landmarks of California, discussed parliamentary law and topics of general interest, after which teawas served and the members entertained the guests, who thronged the rooms.

Dainty tea tables were about. Scarlet geraniums and smilax were used here and there with artistic effect in honor of this social affair, which was the first of a series inaugurated by the Cosmos Club.

Delightful Cossion.

The Highland Park Ebell Club enjoyed an especially delightful session last Tuesday morning. The meeting was held in the assembly-room of the new Occidental College building, and the club had as its guests, the faculty and students of the college. Mrs. Greenleaf lectured on California missions.

luskin Art Club.

Ruskin Art Club.

The regular session of this club as planned for the morning of February 8 will be omitted to give the members a chance to attend the meeting of the State Federation. As this is also Ruskin's birthday a tea will be given at 4 o'clock in the afternoon to celebrate the occasion as well as to entertain the guests of the federation. Next Wednesday morning, instead of the regular programme, Miss M. Clark of the English department of Marlborough School will give a talk on the Pre-Ruphaelites of England.

A letter has been sent to all the federated clubs in the country from Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, telling of the unexpected sale of the Club Woman Magazine, adopted as the official organ of the General Federation or Women's Clubs. This leaves the federation without an official magazine, and it must remain so until the next biennial, as no decision can be enade in the matter until then. biennial, as no decision can be made in the matter until then.

The board of the General Federation has given its official indorsement to the Federation Bulletin published by Mrs. May Aiden Ward and Miss Helen Whitaker in Boston, Mass.

LIBERAL CLUB.

At the annual election of the Los Angeles Liberal-Club the following of-ficers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Walter Collins; vice-presidents, Prof. M. A. Morey and Mrs. E. P. Freemott; secretary, Frank Suth-eriand; treasurer, J. C. Fleming; Ex-ecutive Committee, H. C. Jacobs, Mrs. J. C. Fleming and the president, secre-tary and treasurer.

The Event of the Year:-Grand Opening

Edgewood Park For twenty-five years the homestead of the Nadeau family, a name familiarly known through this section—lies just south of the city, comprising one of the most fertile garden spots in all there need be no fear of a lack of this all important element—with which endowment by nature some other localities are not so highly favored.

highly favored.

But the constant and continual coming of thousands of new population, all yearning for a home in some just such favored spot; the enormous development of electric transportation in general; the especial development of the world famous Long Beach line running directly through this tract, bringing it within 12 minutes of the business center; the consequent extraordinary increase in adjacent property values forcing this fertile acreage to a value of $1000 or more per acre, has at last induced the present owner to offer in generous sized lots his highly prized homestead to the anxious homesceker.

This occasion will mark an epoch in Real Estate History in Los Angeles. Never before has such high-class and valuable property been offered to the homesceking public on conditions approaching our famously known and appreciated easy terms. In fact, our determination has set the real estate world agog with gossip. Some said, "it was impossible;" "property was too valuable;" "ought to bring more money;" "sure suicide on such easy terms." Such were some of the remarks heard; but We are going to sell this property regardless or the other jealous fellow.

Fleming, a dapper young man about 28 years old, with a wealth of baggage, was arrested in a South Main-street lodging-house early last evening on a charge of felony embez-where it is claimed that he obtained a violin from a pawnbroker and then failed to pay for it. The pawnbroker swore out the warrant.

When arrested, Fleming had a dozen cr more trunks and leather cases in his possession. The cases were plastered over with foreign labels, and Fleming, over with foreign labels, and Fleming, who is a young clerk, was posing as a howling swell. He lives at No. 2103 Pine street, San Francisco, with his widowed mother and brother. A little girl 5 years old, who Fleming says is his daughter, was with him when he was arrested. He will be sent back to San Francisco.

The Santa Barbara police yesterday arrested J. J. Thuman of Los Angeles on the charge of embezziement of Yunion, of which he has been acting as secretary. Thuman states that his books will show a shortage of orly 448, and that this can be accounted for He will be prought back to Los Angeles today.

For Men.

How and Why I Can

Not One Penny in Advance nor on Deposit

Not a cent unless you are made well. I make this offer to show men what faith I have in my own remedy, and I can afford to take a risk because not one in a thousand, when cured, will cheat me out of the small amount asked. It pays me and my patient. My business was more than doubled the past year. Each Belt embodies all my exclusive inventions (latest patent Oct. 4, '04) and all patients receive the benefit of my 40 years' experience, a knowledge of infinite value, and which is mine alone to give. I am the originator of the Electric Belt treatment, and all followers are imitators. This I will prove by any guarantee you may ask. You wear my belt all night. It sends a soothing current [which you feel] through the weakened parts, curing while you rest. Used for lost manhood, drains, nervousness, impotency, varicocele, lame back, rheumatism, lumbago, dull pain over kidneys, pains in all parts of the body, kidney, liver, bladder disorders, constipation and stomach troubles. Send for the Belt today, or if you wish more information, write me fully of your case, and receive my personal reply. I will also send my descriptive book sealed free of charge. I have thousands of recent testimonials from grateful patients. Would you care to read some of them?

Let me take charge of your case at once. I will put new life into you in two weeks' time. Don't you do the worrying. Put that on me. I will take all the risk. I have something to work for. Unless you are cured I get no pay. Address:

JANUARY AND CALIFORNIA.

Thou emeraid captain of the year
Still must they call thee cold and drear?
No, thou art early springtime here.
Thine hills, my Call'a, robed in green,
With snowy peaks and flow'rs between,
Have all the air, the voice, the lay,
The perfume of an April day.
How happy are thy birds that tune
The songs of mountain heights and dunes!
The hawk slow rides the purple blast,
The sea-bird-swings his watery way,"
And flocks of limets blow lightly past
The earth, the sky, the sea, is gay.

The earth, the zky, the zea, it is port of kings iney hand you, getting cash. I claim them all, ye fair land blest, a caballero of the West.

I claim them all, ye fair land blest, a caballero of the West.

Vhat if I'm poor? Each breaking day Turns wintry months to balmy May, and I could feel it into the betting st any attention as and nod were and nod were and nod were the west of the waxen orange bloom, into the betting tany attention and nod were because they far I could go. up and down, a or the bad, and dropped $100,000 to the blue lagoon, a stroll beside the flowing tide, a view of rafichos, ocean wire; The ships that sail across the blue, The night winds low, the slivery dew; The liliac thickets, redwoods old, and fields affaine with poppy gold. The mocking bird that sings at even beside the sunset gates by Heaven.

The next day linad will search for other paradise. The emerald captian of the year

Beside the sunset gates of Heaven.

From thine, O Call'a, ne er mine eyes Will search for other paradise.
The emeraid captian of the year Through spring's bright gate will lead thea e'er
And decked about its arch e'er twine A myriad blossomed fuschia vine.
What tongue would say a land so mild Was not fair Eden's near-most isle?

Men, I Want to Talk to You About This Belt. YOU DON'T PAY TILL CURED

I want to talk to men who have pains and aches, who feel run down physically, who realize that the old "fire" and energy which was so evident in youth is absent now; men who can't stand the amount of exertion they could years ago. I want you—if that means you—to see what I have done for others who were just as bad off. That's my introduction. If a friend in whom you had confidence presented some one to you and said, "Jack, here's Brown; he has made good with me, and I trust him," wouldn't you trust him," wouldn't you trust him, "wouldn't you trust him too?

Now, if you don't feel right, I can cure you with my Electric Belt. If you are full of rheumatic pains; I can knock them out. I can pour oll into your looks and limber them up.

One thing every man ought to know is this. Your body is a machine. It runs by the steam in your blood and nerves. When you begin to break down in any way you are out of steam. That's just what I want to give you back.

I have a cure in every town. Tell me where you live and I will give you the name of a man I've cured.

Tell me your trouble and I will tell you honestly whether I can cure you or not. If I can't cure you I den't want your money. You protect me and you pay after you are cured. I have been in this business 22 years, and I am the biggest man in it today by long odds, and I am growing yet, because I give every man all he pays for. Now, wouldn't you rather wear my life-giving appliance while you sleep every night, and feel its glowing warmth pouring into you and feel yourself taking on a new lease of life with each application, than to clog your intestines up with a lot of nauseous drugs? Surely. Try me.

J.N.Costs, R.D.No.3, Santa Barbara, Cal.—"I am cured of all my former ailments an you have my heartfelt gratitude for what your treatment has done for me." If you will come and see me I'll explain it to you. If you can't call let me send you my book, full of the things a man finds inspiring to strength and courage.

Put your name on this coupon and send it in.

Stomach and Someth, Intestinal, Thread Worms and all other parasites which infest the human body, which are the cause of so many Chronic Troubles, can be removed without inconvenience or fasting.

One of the most prominent symptoms of the presence of parasites is the accumulation of mucus in the stomach and bowels. This mucus, which is formed by these parasites, adheres to the sides of the intestines and in time commences to show itself in the stools. This condition, which is no more or less than a symptom, is in hundreds of cases treated as catarrh of the stomach and bowels. It has been the history of every case we have treated that the formation of this mucus ceases after the thorough removal of these parasites. In the past six months we have cured over 500 cases of so-called stomach trouble, and have absolutely cured five cases of epilepsy. We diagnose and tell you whether you have any of these parasites or not. All charges for treatment are moderate. No charge if you are not satisfied.

Consultation and diagnosis free. Hours 9 a.m. to 12, 1 to 4 p.m.

The Associated Press.-P.M.)
CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Notwithstanding a slight decline at Liverpool, the wheat market opened strong with May up %6% to %6% at 1.18% 91.16%. Shorts and commission houses were active bidders, but actual trading for a time was comparatively light. The result was a further advance in May to 1.17% (§1.17%. The strength was attributed partly to an advance in outside markets yesterday after the session here had closed. Among influences that helped bring out the improved demand were predictions of a decrease in world's shipments. The prevailing cold weather throughout the United States was, however, the chief factor, it being expected that the cold weather would furnish an additional check to the movement of wheat from the farms. Receipts today proved that this expectation was not without some foundation. primary receipts being 470,000 bushels, compared with 720,400 bushels a year ago. Late in the day a sharp break occurred on fairly liberal profitaking by several influential houses. May quickly sold off to 1.15% (§1.16%.) On the decline shorts were active buyers and there was another raily in prices. The market was quite firm at the close, with May at 1.16%.

The corn market, influenced by weak cables and poor export demand, opened somewhat sasier, but developed a firmer tone. May closed at 44%.

Small receipts gave a firm tone to the oats market early in the day, but later the market eased off somewhat on a lack of demand. May closed at 11% and provisions were quiet and steady. At the close May pork was off 2½; lard was down 2½ (§5, and ribs were a shade lower.

WHERE TO INVEST.

We have had much to say of late about the desirability of Ho Telephone stock as an investment. Our conclusions in this matter were reached after an examination of the more conservative dividend paying atocks, and the fact noted that on the money investe this stock paid better than any other.

We most cheerfully endorse and recommend as an investment any of the stocks specified herein, but until HOME TELEPHONE has reached a higher notch than it now is, we feel disposed to recommend it to our clients as paying the best, as evidenced by the data herewith given:

BONDS

Home Telephone & Telegraph Co. Of Santa Monica and Ocean Park

Represent the last installation in important cities of Southern California of the popular and successful Home or independent telephone companies. This one will operate under most favorable auspices, having the finest up-to-date plant and appliances, with the new and wonderful Automatic Switch Boards, and beginning business with a list of subscribers insuring success from the outset and continued support and welcome by the people of the new and improved service. Santa Monica and Ogean Park, with large and growing population, leave no doubt of present and future business. The authorized issue of bonds, which is a small one in view of the later demand for phones and requirements is 150,000; present offering $50,000 of the First Mortgage Five Per Cent. Thirty Year, Sinking Fund, Gold Bonds, maturing in 1835, Denomination $1000, Coupon or Registered. The trustee, Title Ins. & Trust Co., Los Angeles. Interest payable in Santa Monica, Los Angeles or New York City. Price at this time, subject to change without notice, $950.00 for a $1000.00 bond, with a bonus of ten shares of stock of par value of $100.00 per share. The price of the stock of pactically every Home Company in Southern California, and originally granted as a bonus to bond purchasers, now ranges from $20.00 to $50.00 or more per share. We venture the prophecy that the above stock will duplicate such result to buyers of the bonds herein offered. Buy some of these bonds with stock now and derive the benefit of the assured rise in value. The terms will be advanced on or before sale of this present alloutment. That the Tournament Committee of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association desires to express its profound appreciation of the signal honor conferred upon it by the citizens of Pasadena in tendering the banquet which took place at the Hotel Maryland on the evening of January 9, 1965. While our efforts on behalf of 'What Makes Pasadena Famous' may not be deserving of such high recognition, we believe that the spirit that prompted the giving of the banquet is what makes Pasadena strong.

"We further believe that if the present spirit of good will and united action continues there is no limit to the firture growth of Pasadena. We believe that the Tournament of Roses successfully advertises Pasadena in a most attractive way throughout the world and that if the people make good their pretentions by owning an unlimited supply of water, enlarging and perfecting the present sanitary power system, maintaining streets that are paved and well kept, parks that are noted for their luxurious growth and floral wealth, schools of the highest standard, churches, libraries, art collections, museums, and extend a liberal patronage to science, art and letters, and that all stand for the highest and best in modern civilization; that Pasadena will eventually become the greatest home city on the continent.

PASSING OF CHIEF SCOURER.
SOLDIERS' HOME. Jan. 14.—The funeral of Robert Morton, late Co. C. Twenly-sixth New Jersey Infaniry, was conducted by the Masonic Club of the home. Morton having been a member in good standing of Passaic Lodge, No. 67, of Passaic, N. J. Mr. Morton had for the pass ix years been foreman of the scouring department of the home. He was a native of Passaic, N. J., where, after the war, he became proprietor of one of the pioneer laundries of that city. He was admitted to this branch from Leavenworth, Kan., in 1898, and died Tuesday, aged 71. A son is prominent in business in Passaic, N. J.

The installation of officers of Encainpment No. 138, Union Veteran Legion, in assembly hall, Friday evening, was rendered additionally interesting by the presence of the Ladles' Auxiliary of that organization of Los Angeles. The indies installed the officers. Good speaking and music afforded a pleasant evening.

Walter B. Mitchell is appointed foreman of the scouring department, vice Morton, deceased.

WHAT SULPHUR DOES, For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

purifier." tonic and cure-all, and mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of suiphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude suiphur.

In recent years, research and experiment have proven that the best autiphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphife) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate-coated peliets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form. Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health, sulphur acts directly on the fiver and excretory organs, and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of water material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, or which Stuart's Calcium Waters is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles, and cure constitution and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with tauphur remedies soon found that the sulphur found in Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "Yor liver, hidney and ulcod troubles, especially when resulting from constitution in the sulphur decided to the sulphur decided per constitution and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

vard, on the north. It is now stated that the Park Commission is inclined to look favorably upon this proposition. It would be an excellent idea to extend this, one of the most picturesque parks in the city, from the Templestreet car line on the south to the Los Angeles Pacific line on the north. There are at present only three or four cottages of nominal value on the tract, and it could be purchased at a reasonable rate. Some time ago it was proposed to use this for a children's playground, for which it is well adapted, as that section of town is rapidly settling up with builders, who are also breeders. No race suicide around there.

REPORT OF LEADING CITIES.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MONG OWNERS AND DEALERS.

REAL ESTATE MARKET MAIN TAINS ITS NORMAL ACTIVITY.

winter activity will be continued for some months. There was, as previously stated, no cessation in the buying of real estate here during the holidays; and many well-informed dealers predict that there will be no let-up on the part of investors in their seal to secure desirable properties until long after the through trains of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad shall be making regular trive across the continent. If prices during that period can be kept somewhere near the surface of the earth and prevented from absolutely scraping the skies, fairly settive trading and continuous development can be expected during the coming months of the remaining seasons of the year, and afterwards. If they are forced to figures beyond reason they must experience a shrinkinge that will be more or less acute. Future results can only be surmised from existing conditions; and the experience of the past. A reaction in prices of reality can be obviated by the general exercise of that common-sense business prudence that has heretofore largely characterized the actions of owners and dealers. Whether it will be done remains to be seen.

The rooms of the building will be spacious and well lighted, and will be finished in Oregon pine, stained.

Those of the first story will have oak floors, and handsome interior finish. Two large bath rooms, with tiles to the ceiling, and handsome tile mantels will be features of the interior arrangement. Furnace heat from the basement, gas and electric light, sanitary plumbing, and similar, modern conveniences will be provided; and the building, the contract for which has already been awarded, will cost about $1900.

When finished it will be a desirable addition to a subdivision which bids fair to become, in time one of the choice residence districts of the city.

When finished it will be a desirable addition to a subdivision which bids fair to become, in time one of the choice residence districts of the city.

Finished and Under Construction.

Among the very attractive residences now being put up in this city is that of Boas Duncan. It stands on a lot of the Palm Place tract, located on the west side of Lake street, between Twelfth and Ploo streets.

The plans of the dwelling are from the office of Architect John C. Austin, and the work of construction is under his supervision. The house is by no means completed, but work upon it has progressed far enough to reveal the pleasing outlines of what will certainly be a very fine plece of architectural work.

The building is a two-story combination frame and stone structure, with basement and attle. The wide porch, which covers the north half of the east front of the bouse; the porte cochere beyond, and the massive stone columns, found in this portion of the building, contrast with the frame and shingle exterior finish of the upper part of the atructure, and with the old English gables near the roof, and make up an exterior effect which, as sated, is quite artistic and altogether pleasing.

The first floor will contain a large living-room and reception-hall, finished in oak; a dining-room a den, a parior, dining-room sull be found eight large, well lighted and well ventilated bed chambers; five minished in white enamel, the others in white place; two bathrooms, with tile flooring and wainscoting.

The attic is equivalent to a varratior story and is to be finished and furnished aw carefully as the remainder of the dwelling.

Sanitary plumbing, gas and electric light, furnace heat, and modern features generally, will be provided.

The large, easy, oak stalrway, with three landings; the beamsu census of the reception-hall and living room; the polished oak floors, wainscoted walls, built-in oak book cases, and the artistic frescoing of some of the principal rooms are among the striking interior features of this very complete and Lomits Park.

When a real estate firm reaches the point that it can sell from 25 to 30 per cent. of its lots in a new subdivision before it is even placed on the market, it certainly has cause to congratulate itself. Such is the record made by Grider & Hamilton in their latest subdivision, which, by the way, is the thirtsenth subdivision handled by the firm during the past eighteen months. No one need fear the number, however. There is no particular mystery about this result. Other firms may do the same, by adopting a similar policy, namely, absolutely refusing to handle any piece of property that will not show a good chance for profit to the buyer, carrying out with strict fidelity all promises in regard to improvements, and, last but not least, advertising liberally, artistically and strikingly—not dribbling away a couple of thousand dollars in an obscure, commonplace little advertisement, kept up for six months, but slamming it in, aledge-hammerwise, within as many weeks. That is the way to do business in real estate.

Grider & Hamilton, who started in at Vernon, have been gradually working into a higher class of subdivisions. Grant Place, in Hollywood, was the latest of these, and now the firm announces the opening today of a fine new subdivision, known as "Lomita Park," in the picturesque suburb of Glendale, about thirty minutes' ride from Sixth and Main streets by electric car. There are two striking features about this subdivision, which explain how it is that already a third of the lots have been sold. The lots are very liberall in size—most of them about haif an acre. They are all covered with fine old bearing navel orange trees, in first-class condition, and the streets are lined with thirty-year-old eucalyptus, palm, acacia and other ornamental trees. The tract covers 100 acres. Water is piped on all the streets. This is the first step toward opening up an attractive section that has hitherto be

DY BUILDERS D AND ARCHITECTS

In the House Beautiful and Architectural department of The Times' Illestrated Weekly Magazine of this date will be found a sketch of a very attractive and rather unique suburban dwelling that is being erected for Gustaf A. Vom Edeisvard, after pians of his own designing. A descriptive article by a special contributor accompanies the sketch.

is indicative of the firm and steady growth districts and business which centers in this city.

As The Times report appeared one week before the effusion first quoted, and five days before the date upon which story of the proposed improvement is alleged to have been told exclusively in the alleged newspaper aforesaid, it would seem that in this instance, as in others, the claims of the publication aforementioned have proven unfounded. The principal example selected upon which to base its claim to superior excellence was certainly an unfortunate one. It was, in effect, a "reverse-scoop," so to speak. There may have been others that would stand the test to which alleged scoops may be subjected, but it was not one of them. Jesting aside, however, while there is probably no desire on the part of any newspaper to dampen the zeal of reporters for priority in reliable news, the question of priority pales into insignificance compared with that of reliability. In this respect the statements of the publication aforesaid show an improvement. In this instance the information to which limited publicity was given through its columns was correct.

Among the Southern California improvements upon which proparatory work was begun during the past week was that of the hotel which the Montectic Hot Springs Hotel Company is to have erected on a portion of the ceilings and heavy moulding to finish, hardwood floors and finish; furnace heat, fuel gas and electric lighting fixtures.

Among the bills now introduced at this session of the State Legislature is one prepared by State Senator Henry E. Carter of this city, for the erection and maintenance of a State historical building in this city. The proposed bill reads as follows:

"An act to provide for the erection of a State historical building to be located in the city of Los Angeler, to provide for the purchase of a site therefor, to provide for the acquisition, maintenance and display of historical and educational exhibits, and for the collection and preservation of historical records and all objects of interest connected with the history of California; to provide within such building, rooms for the Supreme Court of California; for the Court of Appeals of the Second district, and for an armory and other rooms for the acommodation of the National Guard of California located at Los Angeles; to provide for the appointment of trustees as a body corporate for the management, control and care of said building and its uses, its archives, exhibits and appurtenances, and making an appropriation for the purpose above stated."

Under terms of the act Gov. Pardee, with consent of the Senate, will appoint four building commissioners, who will serve without salary, with a secretary of the board at $1800 a year. The commission shall select a site and furnishing and provide for maintenance of the building, which will cost $15,000. It is hoped by the author to have a site for the proposed building donated to the State.

The Rekins Van and Storage Company is said to be preparing to erect a large warehouse and two rows of three-story frame flats on the west side of Figueroa street, about 200 feet south of Pico street.

Following reports of new buildings are taken from the Builder and Contractor:

A BEAUTIFUL HOME.

I OWN ONE OF THE PINEST AND BEST LOCATED HOMES IN THIS CITY, BUILT FOR MY PERMANENT RESI-DENCE LESS THAN A YEAR AGO; BUT A CHANGE IN MY BUSINESS MAKES IT IMPERATIVE THAT I MAKE MY HOME IN MEXICO FOR THE NEXT & YEARS, AND RATHER THAN RENT MY PLACE I AM GOING TO SELL IT. THE GROUNDS ARE NEARLY HALF

AN ACRE IN EXTENT AND HIGHLY IM-PROVED. THE HOUSE IS 10-ROOM, PLASTER, SPANISH RENAISSANCE AND IS MOST ARTISTIC BOTH INSIDE AND OUT. THE PLOORS ARE POLISHED HARDWOOD, AND THE BUGS, POR-TIERES AND CURTAINS WERE ALL MADE TO SPECIAL ORDER AND ARE THE BEST THAT MONEY COULD BUY. MOST OF THE PURNITURE WAS ALSO SPECIALLY DESIGNED, THERE IS NO "GINGERBREAD" OR CHEAP DECORAT-ING ABOUT THE HOUSE, BUT THE WHOLE EFFECT IS MOST ARTISTIC. THE ELECTRIC FIXTURES ARE EX-PENSIVE AND OUT OF THE ORDINARY. THERE ARE & LARGE OPEN FIRE-PLACES AND THE HOUSE IS PIPED FOR A PURNACE, WHICH CAN BE PUT IN THE BASEMENT IF DESIRED. THE ROOM, THERE IS A COACHMAN'S ROOM

WITH BATH AND TOILET. THIS IS A TYPICAL CALIFORNIA HOME AND MUST BE SEEN TO BE APPRECIATED. IT COST ME ALTO-GETHER OVER $13.000 AND COULD NOT BE DUPLICATED IN THE SAME LOCAL-ITY TODAY FOR $25,000, BUT AS I WANT TO SELL IT AT ONCE, I WILL TAKE $22,500 FOR IT.

Last Sunday we advertised some lots on Sunset Boulevard between Alvarado at, and Lakeshore ave, during the week we sold 2 of them at from $1000 to $1150 each; owner of an adjoining lot with small house on rear has concluded to go East and authorizes us to sell this lot and house for $4500; it's a great bargain, and we'll surely sell it early in the week; we have a fine lot almost op- posite the lot just purchased by the city of Los Angeles, for a firet engine-house on Bunset boulevard that we can still deliver for $500, and a corner of Alvarado and Sun- set that we can sell for $1000, if you buy before the owner finds out how things are going and raises the price; then we have a nice to $02150 on Alvarado close to the Olendale dar line, that we can sell for $300 money; are self-self-self-self-self-self-self-self-	P0 narily considerate and kind, for the people of that region, in his early days, though just, hig-hearted—as they are still—had but little acquired polish. Jesse gave this ce an itus-tration of this trait in him: When thirsty, he would say: "Jesse, I would thank you for a drink of water." The old negro very feelingly related this, with his chin resting one his hand, with a far-away look, remembering the great soldier's kindness to him, a humble slave.

Stonewall's earlier impulsive declarations showed his ruling passion. While at his Uncle Cummins Jackson's, impatiently waiting an order from the War Department to join the army that had invaded Mexico, sitting in the sawmill with W. J. Bailey, he expressed an ardent desire to be with the troops when they crossed the Rio Grande. At another time a colored house-servant of his uncle's asked him why he was so anxious to go to the war, and he answered her in two words: "For glory!"

THEODORE THOMAS

Gentlemen:—I consider the Stein-way plane the best plane at present made, and that is the reason why I use it in my private and also in all my public concerts.

As long as the planes of Messrs.

Steinway & Sons retain that high degree of excellence of manufacture, and those admirable qualities which have always distinguished them, I shall continue to use them in preference to all other pianos.

Respectfully yours,

THEODORE THOMAS.

I gave the above testimonial nineteen years ago and will only change it in so far as to say that the superiority of the Steinway piano to all others that I know of is even more apparent today than it was nineteen years ago.
Yours truly,
THEODORE THOMAS.
Chicago, Ill., May 19, 1898.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 2, 1904.
I consider the Steinway plane as excellent today as it ever was, and, the most exquisite plane I ever heard was the Steinway played at one of my recent concerts.

CONVICT REFORMER.

Intelligent Prisoner in San Quentin Proposes Scheme to Avoid Necessity of Penitentiary in Southern California-Wess Moore's Parole Plan.

WENTY prisoners crowded into a cell built for eight—with all the uncleanliness, unhealthiness and deprayity which that implies.

Word sent down from San Quentin that the prison is overflowing and practically closed to Southern Callparatically closed to Southern Word sent down from San Quentin that the prison is overflowing and practically closed to Southern Callfornia guests—and the criminal court of Los Angeles county still sentencing felons to the penitentiary at the rate of three a week, the total for last year being 149.

What shall be done about it? Is our penal system a complete success? Does it deter crime?

Shall the State build another prison? Shall it be located in Los Angeles, as proposed? Do we want it?

Dollars.

Coupty Auditor Dow has completed his semi-annual report and will submit it probably today to the Board of Supervisors. The receipts during the last six months of the year 1994 amounted to $3,615,783.82, and the disbursements, with a balance of $1,348,-125.07 on January 1, balanced. Among the more important sources of revenue were the following:

Taxs, 1904.5.

These and courts, $2,190,17 School income.

Settle of the second district bonds, 212,700,00 Premium and interest, 1,351,211 Personal property tax 1904.5.

Poli tax at $2.

The bonded indebtedness of Los Angeles county amounts at the present time to only $199,000. At the end of last year there were called in 49,000 worth of 1885, 1837 and 1890 Courthouse bonds, but with two bonds that were not surrendered the total amounts to $31,000; against this there is on hand $54,143.55 with which to pay off the total number of bonds. These might have been paid off long ago with merely a fractional addition to the tax rate, had the law permitted. As the law stands all bonds cause be redeemed at a certain interval of time. The following tabulation will show the larger disbursements for carrying on the county government;

MOORE A MOSES.

The notorious chairman boiled the meeting, followed by about twenty-five others, and as the door swung to behind the last to leave, Moore requested those remaining to be seated, and when order had been restored, he read to them his ideas of how they should proceed. He had excerpts from the letters received from prominent statesmen and others, and presented a resolution to "The people of California through the medium of the Legislature," which was later printed in circular form and malled broadcast.

On the occasion of that meeting the charter roll contained seventy-eight names. There are now ninety-four members, other than Chinese, of whom there are twenty-six, whose good conduct records make then qualified for membership. In order to become a member of the society, one must be a life-termet, must have a good record, and lastly, must take a pledge to continue a good prisoner.

This, then, is the history of the movement, which is soon to be taken up with all seriousness by the State Legislature, and the fairness of the prisoners in their efforts to deal with the subject is readily seen in the arguments as put forth by J. Wess Moore. The section of the Penal Code which the prisoners are striving so hard to amend provides that the prison directors "may" parole life-term prisoners after seven years' confinement, but a prisoner to obtain his parole under these conditions must deposit with the prison directors after seven years' confinement, but a prisoner to obtain his parole under these conditions must deposit with the prison directors got members of members of members will hear his application for parole.

THE SUGGESTED AMENDMENT.

The amendment proposed is to set a limit of years of good behavior as the limit of years of good behavior as the limits o

NEW FRATERNAL HALL.

The Supreme Lodge of the Fraternal Brotherhood held a reception in the Fraternal Brotherhood Hall on the corner of Figueroa and Franklin streets yesterday afternoon and evening. Hundreds visited the handsome building and were conducted through the spacious halls and guest chambers. The occasion was notable in fraternal circles, as it marks an epoch in hall building, the new structure being one of the largest and finest fraternal halls in the State.

The reception committee were: Ex-Senator Robert N. Bulla, Dr. W. W. Hitchcock, William Mead, E. A. Beck, C. P. Dandy, S. J. Chapelle, Lesite F. Wright, I. K. Hawk, and Mrs. Ruth F. Rowell.

CAMPBELL'S great art collection is rapidly being bought up. No such opportunity was ever before offered the Los Angeles public. Ordinary stocks of merchandise can be replaced, but a stock like this representing as it does seventeen years collection by men who know the value of rare curios and works of art, cannot be replaced. As we have previously advertised, every article in this store must be sold. This includes W. D. Campbell's old original Indian basket collection. Collectors who have had their e baskets for years, had better act quickly, if they want to take advantage of one-half price. A $200 Indian basket at $100 is a rare bargain. turning all the vast industrial machinery of the United States into a few ponderous combinations has happily broken down through its own inherent rottenness and weakness."

Touching the organization of trades unions, and their relation to the organization of capitalistic combinations, Mr. Clews further says:

"The organization of labor was the inevitable counterpart of the organization of capital. Reckless and radical leadership led labor into much the same sort of errors that brought some of our capitals of industry to an early day of reckoning. Labor, too, sought monopoly, and this object was frequently obtained by force and intimidation when other means falled. General prosperity enabled many employers to make concessions which served to encourage rather than satisfy the demands of unreasonable leaders until the right of freedom of contract between employer and employe was threatened with extinction.

demands of unreasonable lenders until the right of freedom of contract between employer and employe was threatened with extinction. Thus came the issue between the open and closed shop, and time is likely to prove that there is but one end to a monopoly whether of capital or labor—that is, failure. For some months there has been an abatement of labor troubles, and their revival on a serious scale cannot be reasonably expected until the wave of depression sets in, which it is to be hoped will be more wisely accepted than the conditions of the last two years."

The enonopoly which organized labor seeks to acquire in the world of labor is essentially like that which organized capital, in the form of trusts, seeks to acquire in the field of commerce and industry. But the one form of monoply can no more be made permanent than the other. The laws of compensation will work as well in the one case as in the other. When high prices and high profits are established by capitalistic combinations, independent capital is drawn into the field and the trust is compelled to lose a part of its profits through competition. So, when the labor trust succeeds in establishing a monoply, with unjustly high prices for labor, independent when the labor trust succeeds in establishing a monoply, with unjustly high prices for labor, independent workmen are drawn into the field, and the labor monopoly is forced to meet competition. The competition is an effective as who, escene, as clearly for the public good, in the case of labor as in the case of capital.

The issues of the open shop and the closed shop are fairly joined. These issues will be settled, and settled in accordance with right and justice, in due sues will be settled, and settled in ac-cordance with right and justice, in due course of time, by the general estab-lishment and recognition of the open shop. The world is too large, and the people in it are too many, to permit any special group or class of men to maintain, permanently, a corner in any commodity, whether the commodity be labor or merchandise.

THE PRESIDENT AND PANAMA

Upon the President devolves the chief, and practically the whole, responsibility for the construction of the Panama Canal, since the President will be held to strict accountability for the successful conduct of that vast enterprise during his occupancy of the executive office. If the President makes mistakes in his selection of mento superintend the work of construction, he will be held blameworthy hecause better men were not selected, if matters go wrong in any respect. If matters go wrong in any respect the President's political opponents will not fall to cast upon him the full bur-den of blame, and then some morboard of construction, consisting of seven members, is larger than is nec-essary, appears to be reasonable. The by high officials of the Postoffice Department. Mr. Post announces his determination, if the Supreme Court denies his application, to appeal to the Senate itself. Perhaps this appeal will be no more successful than the other, in the beginning; but it will serve to attract public attention more sharply to the matter, and people will begin to ask why so meritorious a measure as the Post Check-Currency Bill cannot get through Congress, since there is so much to be said in its favor, and nothing to be said against it save that it is "contrary to the interests of the express companies." When people in all parts of the country begin to urge upon their Senators and Representatives the passage of this meritorious measure, there will probably be "something doing" in its favor, both in Senate and House.

Public sentiment, so far as it is inessary, appears to be reasonable. The old saying, to the effect that "in a mul-titude of councilors there is wisdom" may be true in some respects, but it does not, perhaps, apply so well to the building of a great ship canal as does the other old saw which declares that President's idea is that the board of seven members is "inelastic and clumsy," and that it should be reduced to five, or preferably to three members. "The general plans for the work," he declares, "must be agreed upon with the aid of the best engineers of the country, who should act as an advisory or consulting body;" also that "the consulting engineers should not be put on the commission;" that the latter should be "used only as an executive instrument for the execin Senate and House.

Public sentiment, so far as it is informed, unquestionably favors the enactment of this measure, which is so well calculated to promote the public convenience. The more the matter is discussed, the stronger will be the public sentiment in favor of this well-devised plan to give the public a convenient currency, quickly and easily convertible into a post check, to be cashed only at the postoffice designated. that "the actual work of executing general plans agreed upon by the commission, after receiving the con-clusions of the advising engineers, must be done by an engineer-in-chief, and we now have an excellent engi-neer." The President therefore con-neer." The President therefore considers it inadvisable to restrict the Executive's choice of commissioners to representatives of the army and navy. While the President is doubtless right in his plea for greater freedom of action on the part of the Chief Executive, it is also an undobuted fact that within the Engineer Corps of the corps, and navy he can find as good army and navy he can find as good material for the canal commission as anywhere, and it would seem that every member of the commission, especially if it be reduced to three, should be familiar with engineering work of the kind that will be required in the construction of the canal.

The President evinces an intention to come fewered the work of construction.

The Times frequently predicted hat the evil would gradually cure itself—or wear itself out—and the prediction in been verified, in part, by statistics on the subject. Careful exitnates place the total valuations of neustrial consolidations at $2.85,000,000 in 1905, and $155,000,000 in 1904. This is indeed a remarkable decline, and an indeation, it would seem, that the mania for organizing these great industrial combinations has about run its sourse. carry forward the work of construct-ing the canal in a businesslike way, and as expeditiously as possible. That he will be given a free hand by means of appropriate legislation on the part of Congress, is hardly to be doubted.

There is no denying but this threat-ened religious wave might do Los An-geles some good, at least in spots, Like every other community, we have a few dry old sinners here that a wave of this kind would possibly wet up to advantage. On the other hand, the trouble with most of these religious waves is that so many sinners duck under them.

true that in a delirium California Republicanism knows not the sound of its own voice?

These are the sober and sobering considerations that atretch far beyond the exultation of present success. The people are with the President. Are they on guard, or do they sleep? A wise Californian said once that those who need the instruction of results must wait for the results. So it will be now. We rust wait for results to see whether in the selection of a Southern California Senator history is to repeatitself, and we are to witness the assertion of an individuality, rebellious to discipline and refusing to lead or to follow. The time has gone by when enturism and exultation fill the whole field of thought that is around the choice of a Senator. If the people cannot with their way behind the President through the party, they will try to win it by a reaction that may be like the breaking of the seals that hold the pestilence.

The responsibility of this State cannot be avoided, it cannot be shifted. It cannot be lost in the shouting. It will be approvate of disapproval. It will condemn or it will exalt. We say these things for the purpose of suggrestion, hoping that no warning is needed, and that there is nowhere any purpose that needs be warned. Let every eye be upon the pendulum of politics, and let all winess how slight the impulse of its backward swing.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE. The Regular Cabinet Dinner is to be Abandoned as is the Receiv-

to abolish the receiving line at the White House receptions. As far back as the time of Dolly Madison, it has been the custom of the President's wife to be supported of these occasions by the wives of her husband's official advisers, and, as you know, people who have had the honor to receive invitations have passed in review before a row of dames who greeted them with forced smiles and sometimes gnade remarks that could not be hefird, and tried to look as though they were not tired and bored.

The first person inside the door of the Blue Room is the master of ceremonies, who asks your name and repeats it to the President repeats it to his wife, who stands at his right, and she whispers it to the wife of the Secretary of State, who stands next to her. Then it is passed down the line to the wife of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, who defends the left flank. If you happen to be a stranger, and your name is Jones, they will call you Robinson before you get by, but that is accidental. The ladies are very gracious and cordial, but, in the confusion, it is impossible for them to hear or speak correctly, and there is no use in their trying to do it, anyhow.

While the ladies of the present Cabinet are most estimable and admirable wives, mothers, friends and all that sort of thing, they would not be selected as first choice for a beauty show; nor are any of them accustomed to pose as models for modistes. They do not stand in the line from choice, but it has been one of the penalties of their position, and to a delicate woman it is a terrible ordeal.

The President has at last determined to abolish the absurd custom, and hereafter at public, as well as private receptions, he and Mrs. Roosevelt will receive alone, while the wives of the Cabinet officials, with other ladies of distinction, will be invited to occupy the Blue Room with them and assist in entertaining their guests, just as they would do in private life.

The vocial programme for the White House this winter is intended to be entertainments more frequent.

pups. It was while Lord Hardwicke, then only Lord Royston, was attached to the Embassy at Vienna, in which capital Lady Anglesey and her niece were at the time staying. Everything went awimmingly and already arrangements were being discussed for celebrating the marriage at the Embassy chapel when the following correspondence took place. Lady Anglesey wrote: "Dear Lord Royston: I am leaving Vienna with my niece for the Sennering for two or three days. Perhaps you could be at the railroad station at II temorrow morning to bid us good-by. Yours, sincerely, you could be at the railroad station at il tomorrow morning to bid us goodby. Yours, sincerely,

"MARIE ANGLESEY."

To this invitation Lord Hardwicke replied with the following characteristic missive:

"Dear Lady Anglesey: Awfully sorry I cannot be at the South Railroad Station to say good-by to you and your nicce. But just at the time you name I have to be at Western Railroad terminus to meet two fox-terrier pups. Awfully sorry. Tours sincerely,

"ROYSTON."

That of course, ended the match. For not even the prospect of becoming a peeress of the realm could reconcile the high-spirited American girl to the idea of becoming the wife of one who, on the eve of marriage, thus openly preterred to her some fox-terrier pups.

[Editorial Syracuse Telegram Jan, 7, 1905.] The annual Midwinter Issue of the Los Angeles (Cal.) Times is a marvel of newspaper production, containing, as it did, perhaps the most elaborate review, descriptively and pictorially, of the great southwest of the Pacific Coast ever attempted in daily journalism.

The Los Angeles Times claims the distinction of carrying the largest amount of advertising of any daily paper in the United States, and considering that it is published in a progressive city of approximately 150,000 population, this assertion will appear to the casual reader as somewhat overdrawn, but when it is shown that for every day of the first eleven months of 1904 its daily average of advertising was ninety-nine columns, the fact becomes at once apparent that its claim is fully justified.

The Times is truly the marvelous product of a marvelous city.

RITORY.

The Daily Review is Chicago's latest newspaper. It was born January 12, A.D. 1905, and proposes to print "only news worth remembering." Long time the cry has gone up from certain quarters against the "sensationalism of the press." It has been a fond formula with those who chant "Lord, Lord, I thank Thee" to point to the inch given the anemic sermon and the eil devoted to the gory prize fight, as a horrible example of the degeneracy of the press. Undoubtedly there is a pint of sincerity, as well as a peck of hypocrisy in the plaint; unquestionably some things that are news are more morally depressing that some things which have not the elements of newsencess (or of newness) in them. But it is sadiy likely the publishers of "only news worth remembering" will discover that those who are loudest to praise them will be slowest to ray them, for as a rule your superlatively "nice" person expects his paper free and will blackguard you in an expurgated Billingsgate all his own if you ask him a penny for your pains.

STOLE HIS WIFE.

STOLE HIS WIFE.

HADDICAN WANTS PAY.

James Haddlean has brought suit against Nicholas Urbanus to recover damages for stealing his wife, Louisa P. Haddlean. The value he was placed upon his wife is $10,000, but in the comprism filed her qualities are not described in any way.

The husband sets out that he was living peacefully and happily with Louisa at Jerome, Yavapai county, Arisona, when Urbanus came, along and intending to injure and deprive him of the comfort, society and assistance of his wife maliciously enticed her away. The women with her "enticer" are alleged to have come to Los Angeles, where he detained and harbored her.

Mr. Haddlean does not ask that the woman stolen from him on October 15, 1903, shall be restored to him, but only that he be granted $10,000 as full pay.

PORGED FRIEND'S NAME.

H. R. Baurmann, a scion of a wealthy Chicago family, was before Judge Smith yesterday to plead guilty to forgery. He is a very young man—only 22 years of age, and through the sympathetic presentation of the facts in the case by Attorney Haskins, and the ready acquiesence of District Attorney Fredericks, Baurmann was saved from disgrace.

The defendant had his plea of guilty entered and then Mr. Haskins asked Murderer Examined.

Ernst L. C. Merkel, the old man who cruelly murdered his wife and her woman friend, Mrs. Fox, was examined for the second time before Justice Austir, yesterday for murder. He was again bound over without bail as in the first case, when his examination was declared to be invalid. Nothing of new interest developed. Attorney W. T. Hyatt appeared for Merkel.

Kieked Wife.

When C. L. Barry was arrested yesterday for kicking and beating his wife in drunken brutality, the woman wept and pleaded with the officers to let him go, not to lock him up in the cruel jail.

He was brought before Justice Austin yesterday charged merely as drunk. His wife refused to appear against him. Neighbors were there, however; ou their testimony, he was convicted and sentenced by Justice Austin to pay a fine of $25.

corner on the street. Look it up. REAL ESTATE AND GROCERT STORE.

We have the cheapest and most complete arrangement for a person desiring to purchase an established grocery business there is in the city today. A corner lot, size 30 142; back yard entirely fenced and improved with flowers; small barn and carriage shed; 2-story frame store building erected one year ago; 2 beautifully finished living rooms above store, with bath; one large living room in the roar of store; stock of groceries above atore, with bath; one large living room in the roar of store; stock of groceries are not stored in the fast developing manufacturing section of the southeast side. Within one block of this store January I a new factory opened with 50 employees. Now is the time to cornal this new trade. The owner offers the lot, building, stock and fixtures at a price below what it originally cost him, and is selling on account of his wife's health, we certainly can convince a purchaser that this is the rarest bargain there is on the market today. We are offering this property today at a price never before quoted.

THE ROBERT MITCHELL CO. THE ROBERT MITCHELL CO., Both Phones 2231. 508 S. Broadway. SOLE AGENTS. FOR SALE-PICO ST. SNAP. $128-5038. ED E. Pice at, with a seven-room house, substantially built, rested for $35 per month. As the house alone cost $3500, this leaves you the 50-foot lot at $120, or $25 per foot; and we have just sold the adjoining lot at $36 per foot. This house could be raised and two flats added to it, so that it would yield a revenue of $15 per month at $150. Breides the property and everyone knows that Pico at, has a grand future.

We have a short option on the above property at the prices quoted; and you must see us at once, if you care to consider it.

RAILROADERS WILL PREACH.

The fertile pastor of the Third Congregational Church, Rev. F. A. Field, has arranged a meeting for railroad men tonight at 7:30 which is to be just what it says, for the service will be in the hands of railroad men. "Can a Railroad man be a Christian?" will be answered by Conductor T. J. O'Kelly, switchman George Leonard, switchman J. Irwin, trainman E. E. Leary and others. The church is located at No. 1201 East Main street, near the Liewellyn Iron Works. In his invitation, scattered broadcast, Mr. Field says. "Come: get next." He also promises to have the best singers in the city.

SUCCESSFUL, BECAUSE HONEST WITH THE PUBLIC

There are two principles on which our business was founded and is sustained: that this store has been, is and always will be, the "Safest Place to Trade;" and that, no matter what merchandise you see or where you see it, we have firmly established the principle that "What Others Advertise We Sell for Less." The public awaits our January Cleanup Sales with interest, and are never disappointed, for reductions range from one fourth to one half off regular prices. We carry no goods from one season to another and already the new "1905" merchandise is arriving. This will be the greatest sale of its kind we have ever held, for our increased business naturally leaves us with more varied assortments to be closed out at the end of each season. Consult your own interests and purchase liberally, yet save money this week, for such sales are only possible at

The apit will fall, as all such appeals now and the suffering women and chiling who have become beggars and sects of charity have a future to more terrible than the months to the "hitter and" to support them to the will or consideration.

Bleily then tried to cut down his shortage by technicalities. He admitted that he used the funds of the union, but claimed that as the debt to the janitor was a personal matter between him and the janitor, so also was the funds due the sick members of the union. That fund was in his care and if he did not pay it over to the beneficiaries that was a matter for them to take up in a civil suit. Bielly also claimed that the meeting abundance was assured for the summer, fall and winter. Last Monday the strikers were glad to return to work unconditionally. But before they awoke to their folly, they had been deserted by the unions, whose leaders had promised to support them to the funds of the dark as the debt to the janitor was a personal matter between him and the janitor, so also was the funds due the sick members of the union. Another telling lesson of hor leaders had promised to support them to the "bitter end;" the treasury was exhausted, no strike money had been distributed for two weeks, and the men and families had suffered from actual freezing and starvation. The only issue was arbitration, and when the union men refused to sign, the employers immediately egged others who would. Instead of $4.50 a day, the men for five months received only $6—and many of them have large familles. It some union workmen will learn in no other way than through experience the hollowness of unionism, an experience like this one ought to be sufficient.

It is known, says the Brooklyn Eagle, that in the open shop the output increases, to the advantage of both employe and employer. A New Graft Scheme Discovered by Bricklayers.

Business Agent Clause in Proposed Agreements.

IFROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT! SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13 .- The urneymen Barbers' Union is going through the farce of "investigating" its secretary, Joseph Bleily, who had charge of the funds of the union, and recorded in my letter two or three on Bleily's books, and he reported that oney which had been collected for the union was unaccounted for by the secretary. The expert was of the opinion that Bleily had pocketed the funds of the union, and had even taken the money which was in the sick fund. The janitor of the building in which the union held its meetings also complained because he had not received his pay for more than a year. It was found that Bleily was responsible for this also, but the union decided that this was a personal debt between Blelly and the janitor and cut that a State Barber Examiner, and at one time lived in Los Angeles. He was also a deputy assessor in San Fran-cisco, and it is understood profited greatly thereby. With Calish's assist-ance Bleily expects to be fully exon-erated by his union and restored to his position without a blemish on his character.

BRICKLAYERS' GRAFT. The Bricklayers' Union has caught the convention habit, and things are looking bad for the contractors just now. It was discovered some time ago by the unions that one of the softest snaps in the way of gathering in coif was to have a convention. It was noticed that whenever a big body of men was brought to San Francisco, the merchants, hotel keepers, railroads, and all others who expected to profit thereby gave liberally for the entertainment of the visitors. So conventions were voted a good thing. Several have been held, but so far they have cut little figure in the matter of increasing the revenue of the business ooking bad for the contractors just increasing the revenue of the business houses which have been called upon to subscribe to their entertainment. 'the Bricklayers' Union, however, knows a trick worth two of soliciting knows a trick worth two of soliciting among the business men. It was de-cided that the International Brick-layers' Union should hold its annual convention in San Francisco, and in-stead of going to the hotel men, the storekeepers and the street rallways the delegates from the union went to the bosses and contractors for their subscriptions to the entertainment fund.

The grafters of the union are now out over the city levying blackmail from the contractors and builders who dare not refuse for fear the grafters who have a pull with the Building Trades Council, will cripple their business. Every contractor, builder, mill owner, lumber dealer and handler of building material is called upon, and all of them funy understand the situation and feel that they must submit to the squeeze.

mit to the squeeze.

This new graft may hurry up the clash between the employers and unions which is sure to come early in the year. The unions so far have been modest in their demands for the new modest in their demands for the new year, and have given no sign that they intend to increase their demands. All the new agreements which have been presented to the employers have been simply reproductions of the old work-ing agreements. They have been afraid to test the matter by new de-mands, and they say they are per-fectly satisfied with the old agree-ments. Before it was whispered about that the employers were going to resist the demands of the unions, several agreements had been made up which looked to increase of wages and shortening of hours, but none of these agreements has come to light since the beginning of the year. THE BUSINESS-AGENT CLAUSE.

But while the unions are making no new demands so far as wages and hours are concerned, there is a clause in all the new agreements which will be the point of difference on which the split will come. Every agreement contains a little paragraph which says that the employers shall employ only such men as are satisfactory to the business agent of the union.

business agent of the union.

Employers have been so harassed by the walking delegates of the unions that such a clause in the agreement is something like a red rag to a bull. Employers insist that taey shall employ their own help and use their own judgment as to who is most suitable for their purpose. They want to hire and discharge whomsoever they please, without the interference of an agritator.

Bartenders' unions are the first to submit new schedules for the new year, and these two unions are the ones which the employers are glad to begin good work on. These two un-lons are composed of the riff-raff of both trades, and the decent men of both are either out of the unions or are members through compulsion .

It is the intention of these two unions to demand full recognition of the unions, and when the test comes they will go the way of the Hackmen's Union and the Stablemen's Union. which now live only in name. In this list of unions which have recently dehat and cap-workers, harness makers leather workers, freight handlers, brewers, porters, machinists, sheep butchers, wire workers, glove makers butchers, wire workers, glove makers and packers.

Every one of the unions mentioned made the fight expressly on the matter of recognition of the union and the complete unionization of every place where they worked. In all cases there was neither question of wages nor hours. The fight was clearly drawn and the result was the same in each instance. The unions were not only each instance. The unions were not only whipped to a finish but they were

HIDING THE TRUTH. One of the principal occupations of the leaders of unionism just now, in San Francisco, is the concealment of the true state of affairs, so that the members of the unions will not know how near they are to dissolution. Take the Butchers' Union, for instance. Every butcher shop in San Francisco is now an open shop. There is no recognition of the union in any manner. The walking delegate dare not thrust his nose inside the door of a shop, except to buy a piece of meat. The working butchers in the shops union man. In the face of all this the latest report of the Butchers' Union to the Labor Council makes the statement that there are but three nonunion butcher shops in San Francisco and it is expected that these three will soon be made to see the error of their

The fact of the matter is that while there are no union shops in the city, out of all the open shops there are nineteen which absolutely refuse to employ a man who belongs to the Butchers' Union. The proprietors of these shops say they will tolerate no half-way measures. Should the few remaining members of these unions learn that they are paying a share of their hard-earned wages into the treasuries of the unions simply to keep a lot of blood suckers from working, the unions working the unions of a systems without would go out of existence wit even the formality of notifying the Labor Council.

Contest Between Cap Makers and Employees.

The Unionists Want a Monopoly in the Trade.

Employers are Determined to Resist Them.

The Association of Cap Manufactur-ers of this city, consisting of nine-teen firms employing 1600 men, have after next Monday these will be "con says the New York Journal of Com dividuality, union or non-union," and employers announce that they will recharge people for cause" when they "deem necessary." The posting of this notice was promptly followed by a strike, not for higher wages, shorter hours or better conditions, but year ago the union concentrated its:

efforts upon one concern to compel recognition and get rid of non-union men. By a strike, followed by boycotting and picketing, it drove the concern out of town, and when it eshablished a factory in Jersey City pursued it there with its harassing tactics. This is not the only instance of trouble caused by the demands of the union and its determination to establish a monopoly of labor in cap making. The Association of Cap Manufacturers was formed as a measure of defense and mutual protection, and the open-shop decree is the result, for in that alone is there escape from the torments of strikes and boycoits, whose purpose is to destroy competition among workmen at the trade and put employers at the mercy of the union.

The constitute of rights is raised put employers at the mercy of the union.

The question of rights is raised again in this case, and it is to be hoped that all rights will be protected. The employers had the right to employ only union men if they pleased. They had the right to employ only union men, and they had the right to have their shops open on equal terms to union and non-union workmen. They had the right to discharge men whom they did not want for any reason satisfactory to themselves. These rights are recognized by the law, and have been declared by the law, and have been declared by the union workmen had a right to refuse to work with non-union men or with red-headed men, or with any men with whom they did not wish to be employed. Unless under contracts they had a right to leave their employment whenever they were dissuisfied with it, either individually or in a body. That is, they had a right to strike.

The employers had the right to to the manufacturers of the united Garmero of June 24, 100, did not publish for four men or the contractors that their restrings work in their reacting work.

The employers had the right to be contracted by the courts. On the other nand, the union workmen had a right to be contracted by the law, and have been declared by the law, and have been decla or hours or better conditions, but against the open-shop principle, precisely as was done by the tailors and garment workers last spring.

The posting of this notice was not gratuitous and without cause, but was in the nature of a declaration of independence for the employers and of freedom for the workmen. About a no right to interfere with their getting work elsewhere, or to coerce other employers into refusing to give it to them. They have no right to boycott such other employers or the workmen, or about thirteen name their own. Equally the strikers have no right to interfere with their, em-

WHY HE LIKED SALEM.

The late Senator Hoar of Massachusetts once told a pretty romance to explain his presence in the city of Salem, as well as on this mundane sphere. It was related to a group of friends as follows:

MAKING ICE ROADS.

"The season for making ice roads in the woods has just commenced," said Robert Reick of Menominee, Mich. "For several weeks now the water wagons will be kept busy. I have made ice roads in the woods for the last nineteen or twenty years, and so have seen all the improvements that have been made in that time.

"The ice roads of today are a great improvement over those of years ago, and much larger loads of logs can be hauled on them. Formerly about all that was necessary was to sprinkle a road well and it was a mixture of hardpacked snow and ice. The tracks for the runners of the sleighs were not as deep then as they are now. The roads of today are all the way from a foot to two feet solid ice, and the grooves for the runners are made so deep in many cases that a team could not puil the sleigh out of the track if it tried."—[Milwaukee Sentine].

The Banner received a special this morning from Jamestown, giving an account of the burning of the Courthouse of Fentress county, which occurred at an early hour this morning.

This is the Courthouse made famous by Mark Twain in the "Gilded Age," of which he said the sows and pigs were cleaned out to make ready for the coming of the Circuit Judge, and on the fence citizens sat and bet which could first spit tobacco juice on bumble bees. James Clemens, father of Mark Twain, lived for some years at Jamestown. Fentress county is located in a remote region of the upper Cumberland country.

Besides the interest attached to this Courthouse by Mark Twain's reference, it is one of the oldest buildings of its character in the State, and many of the prominent judges, including Chancellor Allison of this city, have frequently held court within its historic walls.—[Nashville Banner. account of the burning of the Court-

"What you going to do, Bill?" asked Billups.
"Send a telegram," Zeveley replied.
"Good idea," commented Billups, "I guess I'll send one, too."
The telegrams were written and handed to the receiving clerk.
"Yours will be 40 cents," said the clerk to Zeveley, "and yours," turning to Billups, "will be 75 cents."
"Hold on there!" shouted Billups.
"Why is his only 40 cents and mine 75 cents?" "Why," said the clerk, "this gentle-man's dispatch is going to New York and yours is going to Sait Lake City." "Oh, hell!" said Billups, "send min to New York, too."—[Washington Post

The bouquet holder belonged to the era of "made-up" nosegays, as if, hard and about as ungraceful as a collection of anything so beautiful as flowers could be tortured into. The girls of the present day who know only the sheaves of superb cut flowers and the bunches of smaller single blooms, like violets, sweet peas, lifles of the valley and the like, would look with puzzled wonder on the collection of camellias, japonicas, heliotrope, mignonette, Bon Siléne roses, tuberoses and smilax, tied up compactly, after having their stems cut off and wire stems substituted, and then put into a elaborate petticoat of paper lace, which her mother used to carry to parties or the theater.—[Boston Herald.

OMITA PARK consists of 100 acres in full bearing orange trees; it is bounded on the north by Glendale, on the south by Tropico, on the east and west by Glendale and Central Avenues, the main arteries uniting these two fair towns. For years the owner has been importuned to subdivide this fine property, and the home builders have been watching for an opportunity to buy and locate, but the crops have been so prolific and the income so large that the owner could never be persuaded to put it on the market. Now, at last, the time has come; the property has been placed in our hands with instructions to subdivide and sell, and we are going to sell it. All the lots are large, one-quarter, one-half and one acre. Water is piped on all streets and each lot is covered with magnificent, full bearing orange trees, a source of immediate income, which will pay you large interest or

How to Get There

Get your tickets at our office free. Take any Tropico or Glendale car at Sixth and Main; go at any hour you please The conductor will let you off at Lomita Park.

The route is scenic and grand. The car, after leaving the busy streets of the city, skirts the gem of Los Angeles, Echo Park; thence through Elysian Park, along the mountain side, high up across viaducts, through thickly wooded hills, till suddenly the grand panorams of the Tropico Valley bursts upon the eye. Cultivated, thrifty and prosperous, with its great strawberry fields, its green alfalfa pastures, its orchards, its walnut and orange groves, its gardens and vineyards.

When You Get There

You will find all large lots,

Rich loam soil; abundance of sparkling mountain water piped on the streets. The streets are wide and sightly, lined with magnificent 30-year old Eucalyptus, Palms, Acacia and other ornamental trees that have been planted. Reasonable building restrictions and alignment clause.

This is the beginning of the development of the beautiful Glendale Valley. Think these facts over and you will surely buy.

MIDWINTER PRUNING IN OUR MERCANTILE ORCHARD

As no successful orchardist allows "dead stock" to multiply among his trees; so no successful merchant allows "odds and ends" to accumulate and be carried with full lines. Careful pruning of stock in midwinter means healthy departments when spring business opens, and the confidence of the public that what is newest and best they get at the progressive store in season. Original cost of merchandise does not figure in our January Cleanup Sales—a simpler solution is that all winter merchandise are given prices that will and do sell them quickly; and at the same time affords excellent opportunity for thrifty people to economize in their expenditures for necessaries. "Sir George Newnes laughed at me," said Mr. Pearson, "and was not even going to listen to me, but I held on and told him that I meant it. 'Why,' said he, 'it's absurd for a boy to imagine he can manage a business like this.'

"Well,' said I, 'will you promise not to appoint anybody else for a while, and give me a chance at it for the meantime?'

"No,' said he, 'I shall do nothing of the sort.'

"No," said he, I shall do nothing of the sort."

"Just the same, he did not appoint a new manager, and I did the work without getting the appointment. Three months later I tackled him again, and said: "If you are satisfied, I think it is only fair to tell me so, and I will manage your business." This time he thought so, too, and I was made manager."

AN AMERICAN IDEA. "If I had not gone to America when was twenty-four years old, I probably should have been earning a salary of, say, $5000 a year from George Newnes at this moment. You do not know how your life may turn out. I went over to the United States for George Newnes when I was getting a salary of $1500 a year as manager of Tit-Bits. I came up against men there who were about my own age, and not noticeably any more intelligent than I was, who were either running businesses for themselves or getting very high salaries from other people. That made me think, and when I got back I tackled George Newnes, and said: "This business is making $150,000 a year. I have been here for six years; I think I ought to get something more." "How much?" said he.

A TOO-SUCCESSFUL SCHEME. Another episode in the career of Pearson's Weekly arose from the pro-prietor's invention of the "missingword" competition, which popped into his mind one day when he was correcting a proof and trying to guess what word it was that had been left out of a sentence. "Why not print himself, "and let the readers guess the word, sending in a shilling each with the clipping from the paper, with the understanding that everyone who guesses the right word shall have an time had to be devoted to getting a superficial knowledge of Latin and Greek that was never of any real use to me, so far as I have been able to see. It is this kind of thing that has been worked to death since, but it caught on then in an extraordinary fashion. The circulation jumped from a quarter of a million copies in a week to one million and a quarter. The pages had to be stereotyped and printed in half a dozen cities to keep up with the demand. The sales agents were fairly mobbed. In some cases single copies brought 25 to 50 cents each. An enormous staff had to be added. Printers had to be paid overtime. Advertisement rates which were profitable at the normal circulation could not be made to go up with the increased expenses. By the time the paper had paid out nearly a million dollars in prizes it was discovered that the horner was the paper had paid out nearly a million dollars in prizes it was discovered that the horner was hybridian to the paper had paid out nearly a million dollars in prizes it was discovered that the horner was hybridian to the state of the paper had paid out nearly a million to the the horner was hybridian to the same than the It is this kind of thing that has million dollars in prizes it was disc ered that the boom was bringing in a loss instead of profits, and it was probably a relief to Mr. Pearson when the courts stepped in at this when the courts stepped in a time to decree that the whole thing time to decree that the whole thing Fortunate in half the time that would be taken by anyone else I have ever come across. I get through with the lot by a quarter to eight, and then I exercise until half past, swinging my arms and legs about-all that sort of thing—good, hard work, getting up a good sweat. A man comes to me every morning and puts me through ten himself, just one month and two and have to take it this way, in tab-days from the time he had left loid form. At half past eight I read my paces. I need a lot of exercise more newspapers for a quarter of an hour, then I have my bath. After It was the same kind of paper as Tit-Bits, but was alive with all sorts of circulation-making ideas, and boomed from the start—boomed so much, in fact, that a larger plant was needed in a few months and more capital required. Not only was the needed extra capital not forthcoming, however, but the original investor funds, and asked for the return of the whole of his capital. It was a critical moment for the young editor, but hustle did it, and in a few days he had his supporter paid off in full and the necessary new capital reasons. The more newspapers for a quarter of an hour, then I have my bath. After a very light breakfast, my secretaries come along with my letters collected from all the different places, and I would manage to go through these by 10 o'clock. That means that I have broken the back of the day's routine and am free to sort out the rest of the time according to circumstances. My one great rule is that the busier I am the longer I take for lunch. It is a light lunch, but I take my time over a cigar after it. I am perfectly certain that going directly back to work after lunch is the thing to kill you.

"Perhaps the hardest fight in my life now is to get rid of detail. I keep seeing things all the time that I fancy I can do better than the man who happens to be doing them, but once you succumb to a temptation of that sort there are a thousand other temptations of the same kind, all equally strong, and your effectiveness. equally strong, and your effectiveness

I go into details with a microscopic eye. Nothing is too small to master alone as much as you can. One of the great rules of business is to for-get things and get someone else to re-member them for you. Here is my pocket notebook, for instance minute I think of anything to be done, down it goes in this book and my mind is free of it. The first thing my personal secretary does when he comes to me is to say, 'Notebook;' then we work off all the entries accumulated. My secretary is my men

HIS LATEST PURCHASE. "This purchase of the Standard came about by a pure fluke. I jus happened to hear by accident that in Fleet street knew that things were time to decree that the whole thing was in the nature of a lottery. It was worthy of note that after the competition stopped the circulation of the paper dropped back to only what it would have been anyway at the normal rate of increase, while the competition cost the inventor something like $30,000.

I wanted to street anew disk things were at the content of the spot and told the own-ters of the Standard that if they really about it. They said they did, and I told them I wanted answers to five questions. I wanted last year's ball-ance sheet; the value of their freeance sheet; the value of their free hold and leasehold premises: the price they paid for paper; the wages ments; and lastly, if it was true that the Morning and Evening Standard were produced in entirely different establishments, with entirely different apparatus. to blossom wondrously. Not so dry as California, nor so wet as Florida, with a soil of inexhaustible depth, and where rivers and streams abound, with a rainy season commencing in August and lasting till October, no cyclones, no sunstroke, no cold winters, no dry sandstorms nor sudden changes in temperature, it is little wonder that this pushing, enterprising American should have, with other kindred spirits, settled upon the cultivation of a spot so ideal. Two crops of corn are raised, per annum, one crop of cane. one crop of oranges and a continual crop of lemons and bananas. The luscious navel orange abounds there, and they raise the Mediterranean Sweets, Bloods, Sant Michaels, Centennials and Kid-Glove oranges, also the Japanese tangerines. Supt L. N. CIUDAD DE MEXICO, Enero de 1905.—Hay un proyecto en plé en est capital, fomentado por dos Americanica uno de ellos un conductor de ferrocarril y el otro quimico, para fabricar el asucar de la pianta del ma guey. Desde el descubrimiento de pulque, extraido del maguey, aquello bebida ha sido de resultados funesto para los Mexicanos. Dicen alguno médicos que el pulque sana enfermedades llamadas de Bright, pero otro aseguran que no. Pero mayor es se poder por el mai que por el bien. La que la palma significa al Arabe, significa el maguey al Mexicano: Comi da, bebida, ropa, casa. Sin embargo su producto principal es el pulque una, bebida, ropa, casa. Sin embargo una debida ebriante muy comun entre los pobres. En la ciudad de Mexico con su poblacion de 450,000, hay un pulquería por cada 230 habitantes. No es cosa rara ver a un peon tomar den tro de una hora la cantidad de medigalon. Cuando mezcla con el pulque el mescal o el aguardiente, el peoi pierde el raciocínio, y entonces sueles sueder homicidios y escandalos. Di la gente baja, cuando mênos la mitado o sean 150,009 personas, consumen un promedio de ocho centavos de pulqua il día. Si gana veinte cinco cer tavos el día, ya tira su tercera parta al fangoso habito de la borrachera Aparte del efecto lamentable de la mescia, el pulque solo produce la estupidez y la flojera. The Drama-Players, Playhouses, Music and Musician rection.

The Grand Operahouse, emerging in one of its annual leaps from the depths of meiodrama, will shelter Blanche Bates and her company in Belasco's spectacular Japanese tragedy. Wyatt's theater, although it will not be opened until the middle of the week, will also go the picturesque and poetic, with the yearly return of Frederick Warde and Kathryn Kidder, now to be seen in a flaming intensity built up on the story of Salambo. Greet's actors, doing Shakespeare in Burdette's auditorium on Fifth street, form a company of recognized worth.

"The Darling of the Gods," a dramm of old Japanese life, with Blanche Bates as the star, will be seen at the Grand Operahouse tomorrow night. The company, play and entire pro-

In addition to its thrilling melodramatic features, it is said that "Salambo" is gorgeously mounted, with a scenic investiture enhanced by specially written descriptive music. This feature includes entri acte and a complete score, composed by Henry K. Hadley.

Each playhouse has a company upon its schedule, and in addition the rostrum of Temple Auditorium will be turned into a classic stage by the English players under Ben Greet's direction.

It is promised that the stage settings will be fourth act, while the fourth act is in reality the climax of the play.

Burbank.

"In South Car'liny" will be the bill at Morosco's Burbank Theater for the coming week. The piece was written by Harold D. Cottrell, author of "In Arkansaw," and is conceded to be one of the author's best works.

John Burton will appear in the role of a southern "major," too lazy to work, always trying to get a drink, and at the same time very polite and chivalrous. Henry Stockbridge, who appears to have made a hit as a light comedian, will have another character part. Blanche Hall, Jessie Mae Hall and others will be in the cast. Specialties will e introduced by Mr. Stockbridge and Miss Hall.

The bill opens with today's matinee.

presentation is said to be of more than passing merit.

The story unfolds itself in a typical Japanese garden, in a mimetic prelude. The settings are said to be massive and gorgeous. "Old Japan," precisely what is had been for many centuries, existed until 1871. Among the reforms then undertaken was the abolition of two-sword caste, the lordly "Samurai." This was accomplished by an edict taking away their swords and commuting their privileges into beggarly pensions. This forms the inspiration.

The progression of the plot unfolds the story of Princess Yo San, who saved the life of Prince Kara by concealing bim in her sanctuary. He was discovered by Kakkuri consented to spare him if Yo San would be his, and he tells him as well, the secret hiding place of Kara's men. Then follows the attack upon the little band of Samurai. Kara escapes—fatally wounded—and meets Yo San at the black bamboo grove. He dies and she kills herself.

The thousand years of Yo San's punishment in the underworld pass, and she rises through many incarnations to the "Medio" the borderland black bamboo grove. He dies and she kills herself.

The thousand years of Yo San's punishment in the underworld pass, and she rises through many incarnations to the "Medio" the borderland between the earth heavens and the celestial heavens, crying out to Kara not to forget. She passes down the mystic river of souls, and across to the first heaven with the grim ferryman, crying still to Kara. The river passed, the blackness becomes gray, and as she goes forward through the midst her black robes change to white as they drop from her when she reaches the edge of heaven. On the uttermost edge of the first heaven stands Kara with his arms outstretched. As Yo San melts into his arms triumphant music announces the eternal reunion of the lovers.

"Madame Butterfly," by Long and Belasco, and "My Aunt's Advice," by Miss Bates and George Arliss, will be the bill at the special Thursday matinée, and "Madame Butterfly" and "The Taming of the Shrew" on Saturday night, the close of the season.

At this afternoon's matinée and tonight "Yon Yonson" will play his very brief local engagement.

Mason Operahouse.

Few established players have a more faithful following among Los Angeles theater-goers than Frederick Warde and Kathryn Kidder, who are to appear again at the Mason on Thursday evening.

Their new play is "Salambo," founded on the well-known novel of that name.

Casino.

The Huegal Brothers, European comedy acrobats, head the week's bill at the Casino.

Other attractions are Flora St. Ives. in "an electrical musical act;" Strange and North, comedians; the Davies, Roman ring manipulators; Neille Montgomery, soubrette; Rance Smith, and Loraine.

Motion pictures.

MINTERNEY KIDDER Kidder will appear as the High Priestess of Tanit, Goddess of the Moon.

The biggest spectacular show ever seen in Los Angeles is promised for the week of January 30, at the Mason Operahouse.

It is the extravaganza "Mother Goose," staged in three acts of seventeen scenes, and it is affirmed with solemnity that more than 400 people appear during the performance. Likewise, the same account tells of 2000 costumes—all different.

costumes—all different.

There are two spectacular ballets, and a transformation scene. The ballet at the finale of the first act is called "L'Art Nouveau," and represents in choruses and processions products of art in manufacture, displaying carved ivory, wrought bronze and iron, mosaics, irridescent glasses, earthenwares, Limoges enamels, gold work and jewels.

Greet's Return.

The Ben Greet Company of Elizabethan Players, who will be remembered for their fine presentation of "Everyman" here a few months ago, will return tomorrow night, opening a two weeks' season of classical repertoire at Temple Anditorium.

Tomorrow evening "Everyman" will be repeated, and again on Tuesday night and Wednesday afternoon. Wednesday and Thursday evenings "Twelfth Night" will be given, with Ben Greet in the role of Malvolio, Constance Crawley playing Viola.

Friday evening "As You Like It" will be given, while on Saturday a "Hamlet" performance is to be given. This is to be the edition of 1604, and will be given in its entirety—a monumental undertaking, consuming five hooirs of time. The number of lines allotted to Hamlet in the ordinary acting version, which is a mere skeleton of the complete play, is quite extraordinary, but Mr. Greet will have more lines to speak in this presentation than in all the other plays of his repertoire rolled into one. The production will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and at 5 o'clock a recess will be taken, resumption being made at 8:15 o'clock in the evenius.

"Twelfth Night" and "Hamlet" will both be given in the Elizabethan manner, while, for diversity's sake, "As You Like It" will be offered in the modern style.

"Old Heidelberg," the romantic lence, and the audience, like the wife, was smileless. The house was bored instead of shocked.

The doll, attached by a string to the bottom of a couch occupied by a newly-married couple, hung suspended in a room below, where it could be watched by members of an English house party. Thus, the old Boccacio story was exploited with modern trimmings for the edification of audiences of the present day. The London theater, where the doll created much merriment, was filled nightly and Mr. Pinero was led to observe that the merit of his work and not the antics of the plaything was responsible for the good business. This theory was speedily exploded when, at the command of the King, the doll's gyrations ceased. For the attendance then fell off so rapidly that financial considerations demanded the withdrawal of the plece.

How this able dramatist could have set such a trap for himself is beyond understanding. Possibly his recent experience with his "Letty" and "Iris" led him to believe that the public yearned for children's entertainments, spiced with salacious incidents. Whatever may have been his reason, this is the sort of play Mr. Pinero foisted upon the public. If he made an effort to incorporate wit, satire or real comedy in his drams, he failed signally, for, with the exception of the final act, the play is worse than medicore, and with its voiceless "actor" inert the effect of the whole is dismal. Mr. Pinero has dealt in dangerous material before, but the unwholesome has been garaished with delicate humor, and the "problem" has been disguised in clever situations. His plays, although open to discussion, have possessed exceptional technical merit and have not depended upon the contents of the property man's box to insure their acceptance.

Just how utterly different from these praiseworthy efforts is "A Wife Without a Smile" can only be realized by those who have sat through this and other of the author's plays. Satire, wit and even commonplace humor are conspicuous because of their absence: dialogue, which by th

WAR CORRESPONDENT.
James F. J. Archibald, said to b James F. J. Archibald, said to be one of seven war correspondents allowed entire freedom within the lines of the Russian army during recent operations on the Manchurian peninsula will lecture at Simpson's Auditorium on Thursday evening of this week. His stay in California will be short as he is compelled to return to the front for the opening of the spring campaign.

Dr. Charles A. Eastman, a Sloux Indian, will lecture in the Imperial course of entertainments at Simpson Auditorium on Tuesday evening. Dr. Eastman tells the story of his own people. He has been a government officer and surgeon, and is now known as author. Since his graduation from Dartmouth and the Boston University Dartmouth and the Boston University School of Medicine Dr. Eastman is said to have had many varied experiences. He has been a practicing physician, has done missionary work among the Indians, and has been a figure in politics and literature.

He is accounted an excellent speaker, according to the accounts of those who have heard him.

BURTON HOLMES.

Burton Holmes, traveler and lecturer, will begin his series of "travelogues" at Blanchard Hall one week from tomorrow evening.
His studies of nature and life, taken from all parts of the world, are familiar in character to many Angelans, as he has won favor here before. This year he has many new subjects, according to his manager's account, presenting among these descriptive illustrated lectures on Japan and Russia.

On Friday evening, February 21, B.

UNCONVENTIONAL ENGLISH PARSONS.

A Cemetery Zoo, Where Monkeys Gambol on Graves - Churchyard Which Has Been Turned Into a Menagerie and Playground.

> BY HAYDEN CHURCH. [SPECIAL CORRESPOND ENCE OF THE TIMES.]

This ingenious divine first became known to fame outside the scene of his Brown Potter at a London theater, one might think that he was the only parson in this country whose unorthodox methods entitled him to celebrity.

It is true that the Vicar of Gorieston is no ordinary clergyman. The general public first heard of him when, under the pen-name of "Athol Forbes," he started writing rather semantional novels, of which he has now published four. He got himself talked about still more by having a particularly lively row with the bishop of his diocesse. The Vicar emerged triumphant from this contest, which was all about a stained-glass window, and which demonstrated aumong other things how great a freedom is enjoyed by parsons of the Established Church in this country, the rather queer rules of the church making them practically independent of their bishops on the one hand and their congregations on the other.

The friendship which now exists pendent of their bishops on the one hand and their congregations on the other.

The triendship which now exists between arcs. Brown-Potter and the Vicar of Gorleston began a year or so ago, about which time it may be remembered the parson roused no little commotion by persuading the American actress to give several recitations at one of his regular Sunday evening services. He has been dabbling in play-writing for quite a while and startled orthodox folk again about a year ago by starting a dramatic society among the youthful members of his congregation and producing a series of not too innocuous dramas, some of them composed and all of them stagemanaged by himself. Then he wrote the play, "Church and Stage," about which there was so much curiosity prior to its production by Mrs. Brown-Potter at the Savoy Theater. As may be remembered, the piece which was all about a love affair between a vicar and an actress, contained certain episodes calculated to make prudish folk sit up a bit—in fact, the London censor insisted on some of the play being "cut" before he would give it a license. But the piece, which was produced and stage-managed by the Rev. Mr. Phillips himself, didn't hit the public and was withdrawn speedily.

A PRIZE RING IN A CHURCH.

Unusual, however, as the Gorleston vicar's doings are, this country contains at least half-a-dozen clergymen whose performances either in connection with their calling or outside of it, make those 't' 'Athol Forbes' seem comparatively commonplace. Of these divines, by far the most "picturesque" is the Rev. A. Osborne Jay, whose church in Shoreditch contains a boxing ring where during the winter months prize fights to a finish take piace almost every night. These contests are usually for a purse and are generally presides, over hy a professional referee.

THE PARSON WHO "WALKS."

It is no common thing for his ability as a walker to make a clergyman famous, but the Rev. A. N. Cooper has become one of the best known preachers in England all because of his extraordinary tramps that he has taken in various parts of Europe. He is known as the "Walking Parson," fame for his prowess in this direction having first come to him when he succeeded in covering on foot every one of the nine hundred and forty-three miles of land which lie between Filey, the little Yorkshire town of which he is vicar, and Rome. Walking always had been a hobby of Mr. Cooper's, but up to 1886 his tramps had been confined to the district in the neighborhood of his own parish. Then, however, the thought struck him of trudging up to London. The capital is 200 miles from Filey, but the clergyman arrived at the end of his walk in such fettle that he determined to try to get to Rome on foot.

Since then Mr. Cooper has performed some most amazing pedestrian feats. He has walked across Ireland, from Hamburg to Paris—457 miles—and from his vicarage door to Budapest—

Roberts-Wilmans Nuptials.

Thursday afternoon Miss Rills Roberts, daughter of Mrs. Maria Roberts, and Ardo B. Williams were married, the service taking place in the pariors of the First Congregational Church, with Rev. William Horace Day officiating. The pariors were prettily, trimmed for the wedding. Daylight was excluded, and smilax formed a canopy beneath which the couple exchanged their vows. Poinsettiss and scarlet carnations were effectively utilized, and here and there bows of fluffy red tulle were artistic. The bride, who is a pretty girl, wore a handsome tailor suit of brown broadcioth with picture hat of red. Her bouquet was of American issauty

Japanese Elephant Hunt.

Mra Joseph Wannop of No. 227 Beacon street was hostess Thursday afterneon, entertaining with a childran's party in honor of the sixth birthday of her little daughter, Miss Helen Frances Wannop. The party was a Japanese affair, and the house was gay with lanterns, dragons and flowers. A large number of daintily-gowned little folks were present, and the first bart of the afternoon was spent in hunting for thy Japanese clephants, the one finding the greatest umber of them being rewarded with a handsome Japanese idol. Later a huge dragon with open snouth was stuck upon the wall, and each child was blindfoided and given a slant-eyed chinaman to pin in the dragon's mouth. A Chinese dragon was the prize in this contest. Other lolly Japanese games were played, and later the whole merry party action was served. In the center of the table Japanese cherry blossoms bloomed, while at one end a pink and white birthday cake glearning with a kiny fapers was set. A ple of red tissue paper was at the other end tied with bright satin ribbons, from whose depths marvelous brownies were opened and bright-eyed children sat with gay caps on their heads. Mr. Wannop was assisted in enjertaining the children by Mmes. H. & McIntyre, Brodbeck, E. R. Bradley, J. Carr, Oxman, Taylor, Davenport, Bresse, T. C. The Place to Live

In the Sacramento valler, 120 miles north of San Francisco, en the main line of the Southern Pacific Railway there is a colony of about 20,000 acres in which 2500 Eastern folks have found homes, health and a livitinoed. There is room, opportunity and welcome for as many more. If you'll tell me who and where you are, I'll tell me who and where you are, I'll tell from how these people got these homes. You can do the same.

The pointed back intensifies the long, straight waist. There is one very charming style of pointed back that comes near being more generally becoming. It is in a tailored coat. The point in back reaches fully five or six inches below the waist line and shortens gradually toward the front, where the coat ends come only two inches below the waist line proper, stopping each side of a bright vest. The vest points down below the coat and has gay silver or gold buttons, the size of old-fashioned boot buttons, and about the neck it is a mass of lace frills that fall below the bust line in a jarbot.

The skirts are growing closer and closer about the bips, while the back of the skirts continues to grow more flat. They are cut more circular in back, that is, on a wide bias line, which makes the fuliness at the waist considerably less.

While skirts grow narrower at the waist and hips, they grow wider at the bottom. And also they grow longer in back, for just as the ankle-length skirt has become acceptable for dinners and dances, the extra long train has come to take its place. In the very sheer materials, pieces of lead

The postillion back is in style again with the new figure. The postillions are seen on every sort of street or afternoon gown, from linen to broadcloth, and are of any length or from five inches down to the hem of the skirt.

The pointed back and a short skirt do not go together, but postillions and a short skirt do. So the postillions, that look well on anyone, will probably become the most popular. not feel comfortable if you thought you were "drawing interest on a dishonest dollar." Barksdale has a different view on the subject. I find you have to be something of an acrobat to keep yourself adjusted to the Washington viewpoint on subjects concerning which we used to consider our views and opinions as fixed as the isws of the Medes and Persians. Where we could see but two sides, the clear right and the positive wrong, you soon learn here that you are suffering from moral strabismus and the political oculist will promptly fix you up so you can see perfectly how you may often accomplish a great good by making an ally of the enemy. Then they prescribe for a readjustment of the moral focus, and you see things differently.

"I used to feel as your wife evidently does about this 'dishonest dollar' business," said Barksdale to me last night, "but I've gotten over it. I lived out West a good while, where the churches used to depend very largely for their contributions upon the saloons and dance halls. I became convinced that the only way to treat a dishonest dollar is to adopt it and reform it. It is like a woman marrying a worthless man and bringing out the good there is in him. A dishonest dollar will do just as big a day's work as one that is undefiled, if it has the right kind of an overseer. Your wife camnot be held responsible for the parentage of that money, but only for the use to which she puts it. Tell her to give the dishonest dollar a chance to reform."

Do you know, dear, that when I look at it through Barksdale's glasses I feel

Tell her to give the dishonest dollar a chance to responsors frith the litter the dishonest dollar a chance to responsors with the litter that the dishonest dollar a chance to responsors the composition of the real missionary spirit rising up in me, and I feel that I should like to get hold of all the dishonest dollars in the world and teach them the way they should go? But we will lock the subject up with the money, in a safety depend of the complications involved, necessitating an alliance with the influences against which I have been mouthing more or less alleged eloquence for some years. You believe it would be better for me to remain in the House, a member of the "true representatives of the people," and wait for my chance to force recognition and advancement. Reed made no bones in explaining his action by saying that he had no use for any member who would not follow the orders of use "party leaders." A couple of years ago kepresentative Littlefield of Maine was looked upon as one of the very biggest men in the House. He became an "insurgent" on a number of administration measures, and today he is as far outside the councils of the leaders as though he were a new member. The system is simply all-powerful, and the member who tries to beat it signs his death warrant.

In the matter of being subjected to outside influences, the member of the House is "up against it" just as much as a Senator, with less chance of making his individuality felt. The Senator misses that fight for renomination and election every two years and plays a more important part in the nation's affairs. So, I am more than ever disposed to encourage the proposition which promises to promote me to the Senate wing of the Capitol. The matter is to be considered quite fully at a little conference we are to have in a few days, and I will hasten to let you know the developments of that meeting, upon which my decision will probably hings.

If you decide to come to the inauguration, as you say you may, you had better take a part of that $600 and buy yourself some finery. If we dnally decide that we cannot accept the money, we can replace the amount from my salary savings. Anyway, you need the dresses.

President's Grandfather

It is an almost forgotten fact that President Roosevelt's grandfather was the first man to navigate a steamboat on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Capt. Roosevelt was a close personal of Robert Fulton, inventor of the steam craft. Soon after Fulton's successful voyage on the Hudson, the captain conceived the idea of launching such a craft on what were then western waters. In the spring of 1811 the vessel was launched at Pittsburgh, and the President's grandfather began his voyage to the Guif. He entered the Mississippi during the thross of the earthquake which devastated so much of Southeastern Missouri, but weathered the tumult successfully and continued his trip to New Orleans.—[Chicago Chronicie.

"Mad as a Hatter."

"Mad as a Hatter."

What is the derivation of the phrase "Mad as a hatter?" One explanation is that it was originally French. "As mad as an oyster" (hultre,) that bivaive being supposed to be extremely unintellectual. Another theory is that the phrase had reference to Collins, the English poet, author of the "Ode to the Passions." He was a hatter fit. Chichester, and it has been said that the lunatics with whom he was confined at one time called him "the hatter" and that the phrase originated thus.—IChicaro News.
